MEMORABLE MEETING IS GIVEN PERSHING

By GEORGE E. DURNO

SESQUI AUDITORIUM, Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12.—Pershing and Paris.

The boys of the American Legion today unmistakably manifested their intention of electing the leader of America's world war hosts as their next national commander and have him lead them back to France for the 1927 convention.

The election will not take place until Friday. The convention site will not be chosen until tomorrow. But everything is "in the bag".

Prefers Pershing.

The convention demonstrated its overwhelming preference for General Pershing, when "Black Jack" made his first appearance on the platform today a demonstration with state banners, similar to those

Two Are Killed, Many Injured In Cards' Reception

St. Louis Fans Settle Down To Normal After Hilarious Week-End

PLAYERS HONORED BY 40,000 FANS

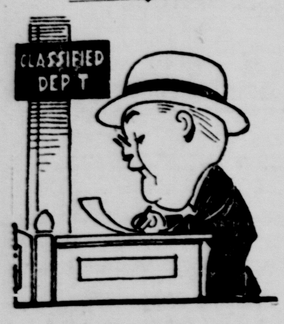

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—With a casualty list of two dead and more than a score injured, this city gave its final cheer for the world champion Cardinals and today returned to a normal state of mind.

Forty thousand persons jammed Sportsman's Park last night when a public reception was held for the conquering heroes and sent up cheer after cheer as the baseball celebrities appeared on a platform constructed in the center of the diamond.

Alexander, Thevenow, Southworth and others were acclaimed by the multitude of fans who came to show their appreciation of the team that brought the first world championship to St. Louis. The celebration was lacking in one respect, the absence of Rogers Hornsby, who departed earlier in the evening for Austin, Tex., to attend the funeral of his mother.

The reception was the final demonstration of the fans. During Sunday night's outburst two persons were fatally injured and about 30 others were injured in traffic accidents.

You would find life running much smoother and happier if you would learn to use the conveniences developed by modern civilization — the classified ads for instance. New Trial In Daugherty Case Seems Unlikely

Jury Disagrees And Is Discharged Late Monday Afternoon

NO DECISION YET ON SECOND TRIAL

Prosecution Is Plainly Disappointed Over Outcome Of Case

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

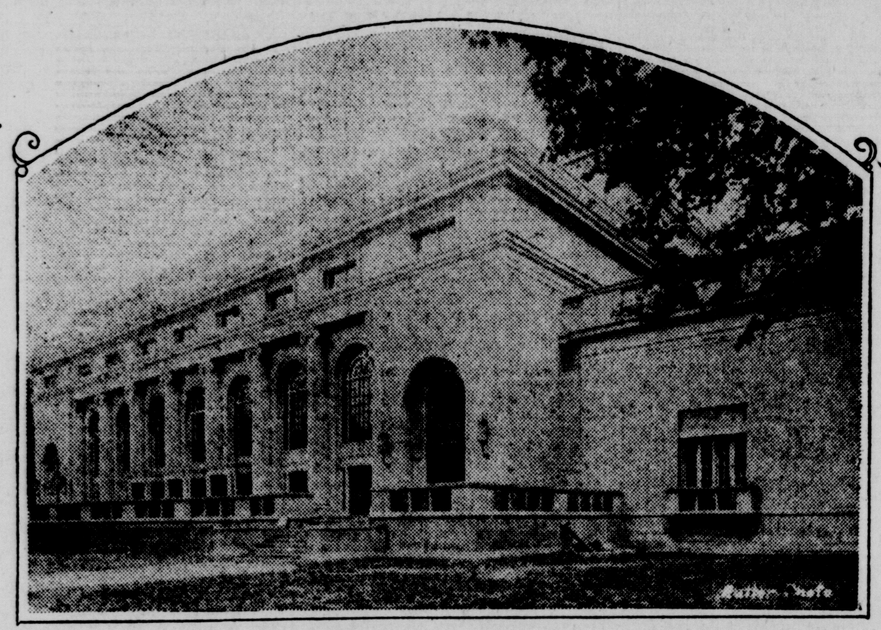

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. — A new trial appeared unlikely today in the case of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general, and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, freed yesterday when the jury in the $441,000 conspiracy trial reported a disagreement and was discharged.

United States Attorney Emory D. Buckner, who prosecuted the case, pointed out today that the indictment still stood against both defendants, but said he would not know for a month whether or not he would bring them to trial again. Buckner and his assistants plainly showed their disappointment.

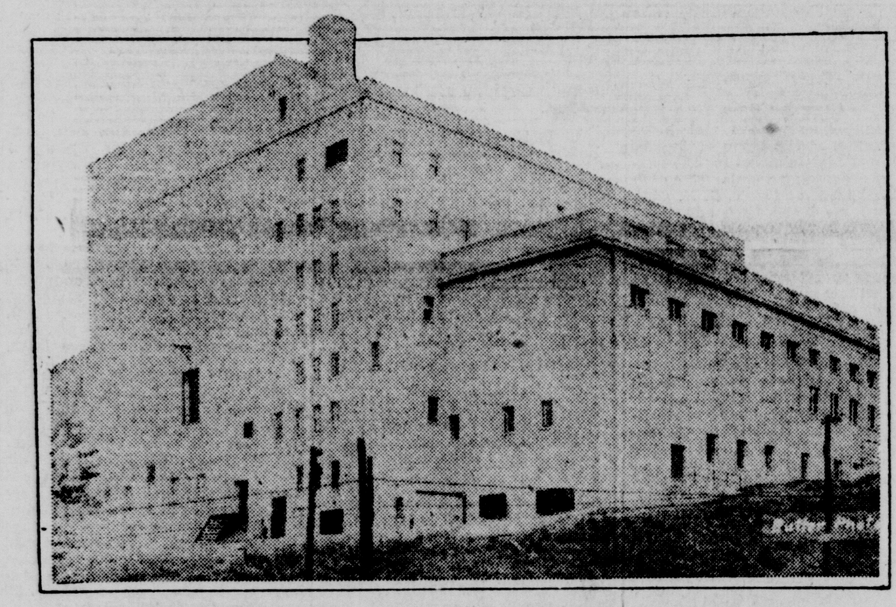

Senator Borah in Washington indicated that Daugherty and Miller will be compelled to testify before the Borah committee to investigate transactions of the Alien Property Custodian's office. The committee is not expected to meet before December.

Daugherty was enroute to his home in Columbus, Ohio, today to have his inflamed eye treated. Miller left for Wilmington, Del., to visit his two children. He will attend the American Legion convention in Philadelphia and later will go hunting with the Governor of Nevada.

Recent Views Of Scottish Rite Cathedral

LINCOLN AVENUE VIEW OF FRONT OF CATHEDRAL

SIDE AND REAR VIEW, GIVING IDEA OF SIZE OF BUILDING

There are three very good reasons why New Castle people should attend the community dinner planned for the Scottish Rite cathedral on October 28.

First, it is a civic duty. Second, it is an opportunity to hear three outstanding speakers, and third, it is an opportunity to see the interior of the wonderful new Scottish Rite cathedral.

It seems certain that the crowd will tax the capacity of even the enormous dining room of the cathedral, and the ticket sale will be shut off not later than Saturday, Ocotber 23, possibly before.

The idea of a community dinner is taking hold here with the same enthusiasm that a town meeting did back in the old days. There seems to be a new civic spirit a-borning here, one that bodes good for the city of New Castle, one that should be fostered and cultivated by every one whether he be a laborer or a

New Wilmington Bear Coming To New Castle Seen On City Outskirts

While coming from her home on the Pulaski road to this city Monday evening about 7 o'clock, Miss Virginia Flynn, was startled to see a black bear on a sidepath along the roadside. Miss Flynn saw the animal coming toward her when it was some distance away, but as it was getting quite dark, she could not distinguish what it was until it was nearly opposite her.

Just then an automobile came down the road and by the lights of the machine Miss Flynn saw that it was a bear. She immediately ran to the bus line station at the intersection of Wilmington avenue.

Miss Flynn was walking along the side of the road, and the bear, she says, was on a path just inside the gutter. It had its nose to the ground, and did not pay the slightest attention to her. It is believed that this is the same bear, which so successfully eluded students at New Wilmington, who made several attempts to capture it not long since.

It is probably the same bear that was seen in the vicinity of Neshannock Falls and on the Harlansburg road. It appears to be perfectly harmless, as it has made no attempts to injure anyone.

Radiator Plant To Be Doubled; To Employ 700

One Of New Buildings At East Side Plant To Be 800 Feet Long

CONSTRUCTION WORK IS ALREADY BEGUN

Three Big Additions To Local Plant To Be Rushed To Completion

Work was started Monday afternoon at the National Radiator plant on an improvement which will more than double the capacity of the plant, double the number of employes, add a new product to New Castle's industrial family and make the National Radiator Company one of the most important plants in the city.

In a line the improvement is this: an extension will be made to the present foundry, 298 feet long by 135.5 feet wide, with an L running off the end 92 feet long by 50 feet wide. This building will be a prolongation of the present foundry. Just east of the present plant a new building will be erected 800 feet long by 190 feet wide.

To Make Radiators

The new building will be a radiator unit and for the first time the company will manufacture radiators here. In the past the product has been boilers, although often confused with radiators. The ex-

Chicago Officers Move To Check New Outbreak Of Gangland Warfare

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Every law enforcement agency in Cook county, reinforced by state and federal authorities, had joined forces today to forestall further casualties in gangland's "war of extermination" which reopened here yesterday in an amazing spectacle of wholesale murder.

Within 30 minutes after gangster machine guns had mowed down six men in the street in front of Holy Name cathedral, killing two and probably fatally wounding a third, Chief of Police Morgan Collins, Chief of Detectives William Shoemaker and four assistant state's attorneys were in secret conference, devising plans to prevent further bloodshed.

Today four separate investigations were under way in an effort to unravel the maze of contribu-

All that was mortal of George A. Rigby was laid away Monday afternoon. For him, the hubbub and cares of a busy world were over, and with the friends he loved so well in life, gathered to pay their last sad measure of respect, he was borne to the City of the Dead.

Not in many years has New Castle seen such a genuine outpouring of sympathy and respect. He was loved by his subordinates, he was respected by those in authority above him, and from the humblest laborer in the Carnegie Steel company, to the president of the organization, his passing marked the loss of a friend. Business men, professional men, industrial men, all of them were present for the last sad rites that marked the pass-

Roumanian Queen Effects Reconciliation With Prince Carol In Paris

"Isn't She Charming?" General Expression Of Throng Gathered At Station

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Even a dramatic reconciliation with Prince Carol on the eve of her departure for the United States failed to mar the majestic beauty of Queen Marie today, as she entrained for Cherbourg where she embarks on the U. S. S. Leviathan sailing for New York this afternoon.

Prince Carol, who on Sunday failed to keep an appointment to meet the queen and who has apparently wavered over reconciliation, at the last moment rushed to his royal mother's hotel and behind closed doors it is said a reconciliation was affected. At any rate the prince accompanied his royal mother to the train and they were as affectionate as mother and son might be expected to be.

Queen Overjoyed.

The queen was apparently overjoyed at the reconciliation and in true womanly fashion she wept a bit, but her tears failed to spoil the beauty of the "mother of queens".

"Isn't she charming, isn't she wonderful," gasped crowds of wo-

CUMO BAKE OVEN FIRE ALARM CAUSE

When Joseph Cumo, rear 706 Neal street, fired up the bakeoven at his place this morning preparatory to baking some bread, the smoke came out around the top and rear of the oven and some person believing that it was on fire turned in an alarm from box 44. The firemen responded but found that their services were not needed. The alarm was turned in at 11:25. The same place was on fire a few days ago and there was a small loss and the person turning in the alarm evidently thought there was another fire in progress.

To quote Robert A. McKinney, veteran church man and president of the City Rescue Mission here, "No men's meeting since the days of Billy Sunday in 1910 has approached this one," the this one referred to being the mass meeting held for men in the First Presbyterian church Monday night.

It was a truly wonderful gathering, an inspiration to any speaker, and if Rev. G. A. Leichliter, the speaker, soared far beyond the heights reached here a year ago, it was because of the crowd of men he had before him. Approximately 500 men, members of Bible classes,

Council To Make Payment Of $8,786.33

Council today accepted the recommendation of the city engineer that the John B. Thorson company be paid a first payment of $8,786.33, for the paving of State street.

Arthur Mometer

In fourteen hundred and ninety-two, a fellow of the Spanish nation, had been working hard for a year or two, and decided that he needed a vacation. So he went to see the queen, and said "listen Belle old dear," I'm off across the sea on some prospecting, and if I have good luck I'll discover some new land, at least you know that's what I am expecting. But if Chris were here today or if Chris were back in Spain, he'd be woozy when he saw what he had started, everything is changed around, and instead of wooden ships, he'd be riding aeroplanes when he got started. And the trip Columbus took was a darby in those days, for the boys were many weeks upon the sea, but they got what they went after, and that's why we're here today, the weather's warmer, up to sixty-three.

Police To Enforce Auto Light Law

Two Headlights Must Be Burning On Cars Operated Here

Police of this city, co-operating with the state highway patrol, will enforce the state law, which requires that two headlights and a tail light must be burning on all machines during their operation at night, Chief of Police Henry Dysart announced this morning.

The state highway patrol has few men in this district and is unable to cover the city and country districts thoroughly. The city police will act for them in this matter in the city and they will take care of the country districts.

Under the state laws, according to Chief Dysart, all motorists are required to carry extra bulbs with them, in order that should any of their lights become defective, that they may remedy the trouble at once.

The failure to have the proper number of lights on a car, is the frequent cause of bad accidents, according to the chief and because of the fact that there has been numerous complaints made recently concerning the fact that many motorists have been violating this law, it is intended that the law shall be enforced.

It is not the intent of the police department to put any unnecessary hardship on any motorist and in case any person is brought in, who appears to have a reasonable excuse, they will be given the benefit of the doubt, however, it is intended that the cars shall be operated here with the required number of lights.

Town Talk

According to Officers Samuels and Dukes of the city police department, there will be plenty of rabbits and to spare this hunting season. They have never been more numerous than at the present time, according to these men, who have been out trying out their dogs preparatory to the opening of the hunting season.

They also report a rather unusual occurance on the old Nassau road in the past week, while out there with their dogs. They were going along the road, when a very large grey squirrel ran out on the road in front of them. The squirrel kept ahead of them for some distance going up and down a considerable number of fence posts, in lieu of trees, which were scarce at that point. Finally the squirrel went into a field, jumped up on the head of a cow and ran along its back and then went into a clump of bushes. The cow was not as much interested as the officers and their dogs.

QUEEN MARIE TO SAIL FOR AMERICA TODAY

men who had gathered on the station platform, as the queen walked smiling and bowing to her compartment on the arm of her son who has been estranged from her since he renounced the rights to the throne of Roumania in favor of the friendship of the titian haired Mme. Lupescu.

Prince Carol saw the queen into her compartment and kissed her good-bye and then stood beneath her window on the platform talking with her until her train pulled out.

The Infanta Beatrice and the Grand Duchess Cyril did not accompany the queen to the station, but bade her good-bye at her hotel.

Apparently thrilled over the reconciliation, the Princess Ileana and Prince Nicholas chatted vivaciously with Prince Carol.

While Queen Marie and her party were attracting wide attention, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was entraining quietly.

Fifty Trunks.

For American women much of the interest in Queen Marie's departure was tightly locked up in some 50 or more trunks which were stowed away in the baggage van. These trunks contain a wardrobe fit for a queen and it is anticipated that among the gowns are many which will create new fashions in the United States. There is some conjecture here as to whether the queen's predilection for long skirts will sway American fashions, since the queen defied all of the Parisian modistes and insisted upon skirts not more than ten inches from the ground.

Beautifully blended colors prevail in the queen's wardrobe, and there are only a few of the gowns in sombre hues.

Police Guard Queen.

Special police guarded Queen Marie as she entrained and held back some 400 Americans who were also boarding the boat train, while the queen and her suite walked to the front of the train where three special cars and a dining car were placed at her disposal.

Princess Ileana and Prince Nicholas, full of anticipation, were first on the train and quickly explored its luxuries. The queen strolled to her coach, chatting earnestly the meanwhile with Prince Carol.

The queen elected for her travelling ensemble a gray astrakhan coat beneath which she wore a tailored beige travelling suit. Her hat was taupe and she led a small black spaniel on a leash.

Grace was offered by Rev. S. R. Maitland. Following lunch President Rentz explained to those present that this meeting was called for the purpose of building a better understanding between the Chamber of Commerce, representing the business interests of New Castle, and the ministers of the city, and offered to them the support and co-operation of the Chamber in every way possible.

Rev. Stump, president of the Ministerial Association, then delivered a short address, stating that he felt confident that all of the ministers of the city would co-operate to the fullest extent, and that he and the others felt there was a great need for the churches taking an active part in all phases of community life, and that the business of a community could not be conducted without regard being given to the influences of the church.

Rev. Fr. DeMita stated that he was very much impressed with this meeting and felt that a closer co-operation, of which this was the beginning, could be of invaluable benefit to the city and was very glad to assist in every possible way.

An excellent spirit of co-operation and helpfulness prevailed and it is hoped that additional meetings such as this may be held in the future.

HURLS CHALLENGE IN JERSEY MURDER

3 charged with the murder of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills four years ago.

Plenty Of Time

Simpson pointed out today that inasmuch as the murders were committed four years ago the defendants have had ample time to name the slayers. Nevertheless, he added, he would be glad to have any new evidence and that he would submit any such evidence to the proper tribunal.

Detectives were sent today to Glen Cove, L. I., where a French woman, who is said to have rented a "love nest" to Dr. Hall and Mrs. Mills in New York, is reported to be employed as a housekeeper for a wealthy family.

Simpson has taken notice of the fact that the list of 160 prospective jurors for the trial contains only the names of men. He said he wants women on the jury and will ask Judge Parker to strike from the panel the names of deceased persons and substitute those of Somerset county women. The list contained the names of several persons long dead, this being the first time in twenty years that a "strick" jury has been called in the county.

Ticket salesmen and women have been coming back for more pasteboards almost daily, and it does seem as though every one wants to be at the community dinner.

And remember this, the ones who are fortunate enough to be present are going to get a triple value for their dollar. The money they will spend will just cover the cost of the meal, the good they will receive from the meeting will outrun any expenditure of money they make.

A Powder You Will Prize
By Edna Wallace Hopper
We stars of the stage and the movies demand the utmost in a powder. Beauty is our stock in trade, and we always look our best. The greatest powder makers in the world supply their best to Hollywood. And they charge their highest prices. For years I paid $5.00 per box for my powder.
Now I have induced those powder makers to supply their best to you. And at ordinary prices. I do this by promising that I will urge all women to employ it. So toilet counters everywhere today offer Edna Wallace Hopper's Face Powders the very kind I use.
This Powder comes in two types. I use a heavy cold cream powder, because it clings and stays. That type costs $1.00 in square box. But the same powder comes in the light and fluffy type, and sells for 50c in round box. Both come in White, Flesh and Brunette shades.
Get a box at your toilet counter today. Learn what exquisite powder means. See what it adds to your appearance. You have probably never used a powder that compares.

COLUMBUS DAY

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS discovered America on October 12, 1492. But Columbus day, although a legal holiday, is less generally celebrated than almost any other; and it is to be feared that if the widespread feeling that we have more than enough of holidays should lead to a call for the elimination of some of them many would vote in favor of dispensing with Columbus day. This is not as it should be. Not only the American countries but all the world should pause on the anniversary to do honor to the great explorer, for the people of every quarter of the globe have profited by his discovery.

Columbus sought a new, short route to the East Indies. Europeans desired that commerce with the East should be facilitated that they might the more readily procure spices. They lacked means to preserve food. Their diet was monotonous, and spices were greatly in demand to flavor unpalatable food.

Columbus did not bring Europeans any closer to the East Indian spices that they craved, but his discovery gave them potatoes, maize, tomatoes and other foods which imparted needed variety to their fare. This is but one of innumerable ways in which mankind has materially benefited from the establishment of contact between America and the older continents.

But it is not for the material blessings that he brought the world but for the glorious example that he gave of courage and perseverance that the day of Columbus' great achievement should be remembered. He remains a model to be held up for the emulation of men in his daring to question the science of his age, in his willingness to face the terrors of the unknown. His triumph over ignorance and superstition has encouraged bold spirits everywhere to stand up for what they believe to be the truth and to face danger, if necessary, to prove their theories.

THE BEST CITY

THERE are some folks so constituted, that if you put them into the highest class city or town in America, they would look at its institutions and privileges in a depreciating sort of way. They would be constantly remarking that if they could have their way they would go elsewhere, but they merely stay on there because they are forced to by having a job or business there.

And there are some, who if placed in any old ordinary town, where there is nothing out of the usual, and no exceptional advantages, will yet love it and say it is the best town on earth. They will be such loyal friends and good neighbors, that they will attract the affection of all the people they meet. They will feel such deep attachment to a community where these ties exist, that it will seem the best place on earth. And so it will be, for them.

We need more of that type of folks in New Castle.

GREED THE MOTIVE

CERTAIN people who scoff at the religion of the ancients would rearrange the scheme of society and do away with private ownership. Their theory is that all properties should be held in common, that the abilities of all should be pooled and the earnings of all used to benefit all.

Critics of the scheme point to the fact that man is selfish and lazy, and assert that nothing less than the hope of a selfish and personal profit could inspire him to exert himself. They urge, moreover, that sponsors of the scheme are inspired solely by a desire to get something they have failed to earn in competition with their fellow men—that their motive is greed, and therefore no more worthy than the motive of any hard-boiled and selfish go-getter.

It is a very good scheme, as anybody can see. All that is required to make it a complete and everlasting success is a world full of people wholly unselfish—people who prefer to work for the other fellow's good rather than for their own—people who will deny themselves rather than see another in want.

Such socialistic and utopian schemes can not work if the desire to get is their inspiration. They can not fail if their inspiration is the desire to give. But if everybody possessed this desire to help others there would be no need for such schemes.

Any dreamy-eyed visionaries who sponsor such idealistic theories can not plead that the world has never given them a fair trial. Many socialistic communities have been founded without one of them surviving the generation of the founders, and when the time of dissolution arrived there were always as few who had cornered the wealth of the community.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:25. Sun rises tomorrow 6:09.

Nine states are to vote on prohibition at the coming November elections. That question ought to come mighty near being settled for good in at least those nine states.

Too many people's idea of pleasure is doing something they cannot afford to do.

Just about the time a few birds think they can get away with working only five days a week of eight hours each, the prices of everything will go sky high and the long suffering majority will rise up and there will be an accounting that will be more equitable to about ninety per cent of the people in this country who pay the freight both ways now.

Some of us are anxious to earn money and a lot of us are more anxious to get it.

Over seven thousand people attended the football game in this city last Saturday. We wonder what other thing could be pulled off in this city that would bring that many paid admissions.

Algebra is useful to the average man only because it enables him to help the kids with their algebra.

Have you ever noticed that the man who is always first to laugh at somebody else is always the last to laugh at himself.

One hundred and ten persons were killed and 44 injured on the railroads of this state during the past eight months. This is one less killed and 31 more injured than during the same period in 1925. Keep your eye on the trains at the railroad crossings.

You would think that the organ of speech would be the first one in the human body to wear out from the way some people work it.

For years there has been talk of a great community banquet in New Castle and we figured that five hundred attending one would be a scream. We have a chance now to have twenty-five hundred people sit down to a meal at the same time. In addition we will have at least three of the most outstanding speakers in this country. Yes, you wonder why the tickets are only a dollar and to tell the truth we don't see where it is going to cover the cost of anything but the meal. Get your tickets now as we expect there will be a shortage. The sale of tickets will be withdrawn several days before the banquet because it has to be known far in advance how many will be there so things can be arranged for taking care of all. If only a thousand tickets are sold when the time comes to quit selling, that's all that will be sold under any circumstances. Everybody has had enough notice now.

Opportunity often has to kick a man before he can see it.

We read about persons who can cure the ills of the body by just the laying on of their hands. We also know a lot of corrections that can be made by applying the boot where it will do the most good. You know where that is, don't you?

When we read about the chap who kept a couple of polecats around his still to kill the odor of the making of his hootch we thought what a wonderful effect it would have on the hootch made in such an atmosphere. Hootch surely would have a poor chance at making an odor with such odiferous competition. A Polish kitten is fine to have about.

A local bachelor grouch says from what he can observe the average woman's idea of an ideal husband is one who gives her all the money she asked for. And what about the lady who never gets any money she asks for and the one who has to give her husband all the money he gets?

It always seems easy to forgive the people who wrong our neighbors.

The money per capita now in this country is $42.34, or fifteen cents more than it was a year ago. There are a lot of people who do not have the per capita we are sure.

Next Sunday is the day Mr. Berquist goes into the church of New Castle and on that day the good people give him enough money to run his mission for the year. He always comes to us early in the week and does not take a chance of seeing us at church, and we are there often. Help him out as usual this year because he does a great work.

The Wasp Waist.
Interesting War.
How We Die.

Wasp waists are coming back, says fashion. The loose dress conceals a tightly laced corset, making the already too thin woman look thinner. England is interested because one young woman, thus secretly tightened, ate heartily and died because nature could not fight against the outrageously tight lacing.

That warning will do no good, if lacing is the fashion. Women take a medicine to make them thin, knowing that it weakens the heart, and eventually causes death.

The London Express, owned by Beaverbrook, well informed, says Mussolini, preparing war against Turkey, will make conquests in the Aegean. Perhaps he will roam those regions, restoring ruined Roman temples, as Lucullus, to oblige his patriotic young Greek girl friend, restored temples in Greece.

It would be interesting, Mussolini and Kemal Pasha fighting. The latter, you remember, sent word to Mussolini: "Make war against me and your trouble will be to find burying room for your dead Italians."

Such a war would show how much of the Italian Bonaparte survives in Mussolini, how much of the old Mohammedan conquerors in Kemal. Let us hope no sloppy American statesman will find it necessary to send our men to that fight, or finance it, as it goes along. Once was enuogh.

Some day, says a London publication, death certificates will tell the truth, for instance:

"Died after 30 years of overwork."

"Smothered to death, worked, lived and slept in unventilated rooms."

"Poisoned by his wife; she did not know how to cook."

To millions of death certificates might be added, "died at the top. His brain never taught to work, gradually dried up."

In America, big life insurance companies, that pay bills for millions of funerals, fight foolish living and death very ably, with advertising and free advice.

Under Mr. Haley Fisk's management the Metropolitan Life Co., for instance has prolonged millions of lives by intelligent health advertising campaigns. It has doubtless saved $10 in continued premiums and diminished death payments for every dollar spent on advertising.

The bishop of London and "gloomy" Dean Inge agree that Christians no longer fear or believe in eternal punishment.

The dean says Christianity has given up the "eternal torment" belief during the past 75 years, and adds, "it is strange men ever believed that God, whom Christ came to reveal, is an implacable torturer."

The old colored brother looked at it practically: "I don't believe in fire and brimstone lasting forever, because I don't believe no constitution could stand it."

Those that mourn the loss of an omnipotent being, creating miserable, imperfect creatures, then torturing them with fire for billions of years, may find comfort in the fact that things really worth while are not done through fear. Absence of fear make them possible.

The English are concentrating on alliterative sentences, in place of word puzzles. "Alliteration's artful aid" can be used to advantage often. And to develop knowledge of language the alliteration craze is more useful than the word puzzle.

To select words for yourself is better than puzzling over words selected by another. Many children have tried to repeat rapidly, "shoes and socks shock Susan." The administration, which will soon be asking farmers votes, might think over this run of words, "cotton, corn, crops, crisis."

EVERY MAN MUST RELY—

Upon his friendliness for all the friends he will ever have.
Upon his own efforts for all the money he will ever earn.
Upon his ability to serve for his true worth to the world.
Upon his own prayers if he expects to make the acquaintance of God.
Upon his line of usefulness, not the lines in his palm, for his good fortune.
Upon his wisdom rather than upon his knowledge.
Upon his life, rather than upon his belief, for proof of his religion.

The Hon. John Oliver, whose intention to retire from public life is rumored, has been a premier of British Columbia and the leader of the Liberal party in that province for nearly a decade. Mr. Oliver is native of England. He was brought to Canada when 14 years of age, and has grown up in the West, steadily gaining in wealth as a farmer of extensive holdings, and at the same time entering the political life with a zest. From 1900 to 1909 he sat in the provincial legislature as member from a constituency in the Fraser river delta region. Then he retired to private life for a season, coming back to the legislature in 1916. Soon after he entered the ministry and in 1918 was called to the premiership. Mr. Oliver has a reputation for intense industry, bold criticism of rivals, and associates, and ardent partisan loyalty.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

ROARING

A recent editorial asks what makes a lion roar. When he is about to spring upon his prey, he emits a terrific, frightful roar. Why does he do this?

One would think it would frighten the victim and make him run away.

The editorial in question seems to think that the purpose of the roar is to paralyze the victim with fear so that he cannot run away.

There is a good deal of roaring done among men. You have often met the loud speaker, the man who booms right ahead and overwhelms you with his vitality.

There are many people who aim to carry their point by sheer force. They aim to frighten away all opposition.

There is a considerable difference between the quiet man who depends simply upon the force of his arguments, and the blustering man who depends upon the force of his noise.

After all, roaring is meant to be terrifying, but if the victim is not terrified and roars back the noise has not accomplished its purpose.

The end of all terrible things and terrible creatures is extinction. If a wild animal escapes from the circus and runs loose in the streets of the city, nursemaids and unarmed bystanders are alarmed for a while, but very soon the animal is slain or captured.

Lions, tigers, rattlesnakes and the like have mostly been relegated back into the jungle. The end of every hop is the slaughter house.

All that remains of those terrific pre-historic monsters and mastodons are a few whitened bones in the asphalt pits.

It is not a truth that appears on the surface, but it is a truth none the less, that the meek shall inherit the earth.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WORRY

Let others sing of perfect bliss,
Sometimes I want to hurry;
At times I'm glad I shoot to miss,
I'm glad that I can worry;
If everything went well with me,
Intolerably bored I'd be.

I like the sunshine and the skies
A field of perfect blue,
But sunny weather I'd despise
If rain I never knew.
If always I had cash enough
I'd fairly hate the filthy stuff.

If perfect golf I always played
The game would have no charm,
If every debt of mine were paid
I'd want a mortgaged farm;
I couldn't live a whole month through
With not a single task to do.

So here's to worry and to care,
Long may they stay with me;
While I have burdens I must bear
Some joy in life I'll see,
Unbroken peace is not my quest,
Only the dead have perfect rest.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

AMERICA'S AIRCRAFT BEHIND

Lieutenant B. T. Talbott, Senior Aviation Officer of the U. S. S. Memphis, made a report to the Bureau of Aeronautics of the U. S. Navy recently, which report embodied the result of his observations of airplane operations in England and upon the continent of Europe. The Bureau has made public his report. Lieutenant Talbott says that he visited the Croydon Commercial Aerodrome of London, from which a passenger upon an airplane can fly with comparative safety to any principal city on the Continent. The trip to Paris is about two hours and a quarter. Commercial aviation there is almost to the point of railroad efficiency, and the popularity of this mode of travel has grown to such an extent that it is necessary to book passage several days in advance.

The most interesting feature at Croyden is the radio control system. All planes are fitted with radio telephones. The operator on watch on the radio control tower has before him a large chart of the English coast, and the Continent. He is in touch at all times with the pilots of all planes en route, and by pinning small flags numbered to represent the various planes on the chart is able to predict within a few minutes the arrival of any plane, and give pilots advance information concerning the weather and other conditions from any locality. Heavy rains which are frequent, in fact, almost constant, in England, hold no fear for the commercial pilot. Planes are despatched on schedule in every kind of weather, except in the thickest fog.

The lieutenant also calls attention of the Bureau to the mechanical improvement upon airplanes which he inspected in Europe, especially the Handley-Page slotted wing torpedo plane the equipment of which allows greater additional lift, and slower landing speeds. He observed one plane so equipped leave the ground with a speed of 45 knots—(The lieutenant is nautical, always) and land with a speed of 47 knots. The minimum flying speed of this plane was about 37 knots. The distance of run in landing and taking off was about 200 feet. He noticed two other things of interest, the facility of the plane to make very slow "flat turns", and to float with motor throttle. With motor throttle the "flipper" were pulled well up and the plane fairly "ballooned down to a landing".

This may not mean much to the average reader, but I have observed the most modern of all the Navy planes operating at North Island, San Diego, California, and the Navy possesses no plane that can possibly leave the ground in 200 feet. There is no such plane operating in the United States today. When a plane lands at a speed of fifty miles an hour, equivalent to about 47 knots, in this country, there is generally an accident resultant, at least the running gear of the plane is badly damaged. The report of the lieutenant shows that beyond a question of a doubt the United States is far behind our English cousins, to say nothing of France and Germany, in flying affairs. It is high time that America became more alert.

POEMS I LOVE

By Charles Hanson Towne

"The White Rose," by John Boyle O'Reilly.

O'Reilly was born in 1844 and died in 1890. This poem is as graceful as the flower it celebrates, and almost as lovely. Lyrics of this calibre are not written by every poet. They are indeed difficult of accomplishment, and give one the sense of a joyous spontaneity, a beauty as unconscious as that of a star. The greatest art goes into the making of such a perfect song.

The red rose whispers of passion,
And the white rose breathes of love;
O, the red rose is a falcon,
And the white rose is a dove.

But I send you a cream-white rosebud
With a flush on its petal tips;
For the love that is purest and sweetest
Has a kiss of desire on the lips.

Aimee McPherson Trial In Recess

Case Against Famous Evangelist Will Reopen Wednesday

AIMEE AND MOTHER REST ON BEACH

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—Aimee Semple McPherson, the auburn-haired evangelist, and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, planned to spend today at the beach during the recess over the legal holiday of their preliminary hearing on charges of conspiring to defeat justice.

When court reopens Wednesday morning, Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, witness for the prosecution, will continue her astounding narrative of how Mrs. McPherson hired and coached her to declare publicly that it was she and her sister, "Miss X" and not the Angelus Temple pastor who spent 10 days with Kenneth G. Ormiston in a Carmel-by-the-Sea cottage. The former Angelus Temple radio man in an affidavit sent from Chicago, admitted he lived ten days at Carmel with a woman identified only as "Miss X" immediately following the disappearance of Mrs. McPherson, his former employer, at Ocean Park.

Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff was permitted to testify over the vehement objection of the defense attorney and had just swung through the preliminary stages of her confession of the "Miss X" hoax when court adjourned till Wednesday. Defense attorneys objected to her testimony on the ground that she was mentally incompetent and waved a copy of a Salt Lake City order committing her to an insane asylum to bolster their contention.

Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff told of the negotiations in San Francisco on July 7 with a "Mr. Martin", who instructed her to come south to "clear the name of Mrs. McPherson" of connection with the Carmel incident. She then described her conferences with Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Kennedy and Superior Judge Carlos Hardy, a friend of the evangelist. Mrs. McPherson instructed her to buy certain articles of clothing, the witness testified, including a pair of goggles, a disguise worn by the Carmel "Miss X". Together they posed for photographs in such a way as to resemble one another as much as possible, Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff said.

Rub Gently and Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

Is Husband Grouchy? Then Get This

"Grouchy" Feeling Mostly Due to Stomach

"There is nothing I have not tried for stomach trouble. Until I heard of World's Tonic nothing would help. Now I can eat, sleep and have not that "grouchy" feeling I used to have. Friends are all pleased with it". (Signed) Mr. James Duncan.

Intestinal Evacuant.

There is now offered to the public a liquid preparation which is not only a wonderfully effective and quick intestinal evacuant, but which also seems to stimulate the glands of the intestinal tract and to cause expulsion of flatuse (gas).

This preparation known as World's Tonic is a valuable agent for the purpose of cleaning the bowels of matter which has been in the system a long time and which other less effective means have been unable to dislodge.

It is often astonishing the great amount of matter World's Tonic draws from the intestinal canal even right after a natural movement it sometimes brings out unsuspected quantities of additional matter. Many times it brings out much gas thus relieving pressure in the abdomen. World's Tonic is especially valuable when prompt action is necessary or to encourage the elimination of metabolic poisons through the bowel.

In slight disorders such as occasional constipation or gas on the stomach and headache (when due to bowel inaction) a single spoonful of World's Tonic often produces surprising and gratifying results. In cases of obstinate constipation or stomach trouble, if World's Tonic does not bring relief in 24 to 36 hours the advice of a reputable physician should be secured.

Reports From Physicians.

"I congratulate you on the good effect from World's Tonic, since I prescribe it".

(Signed) Dr. C. Potter.

"World's Tonic is the best in my entire 37 years' experience".

(Signed) Dr. Geo. Bush.

"I prescribed World's Tonic with highly satisfactory results".

(Signed) Dr. C. F. C.

"I can't get along without World's Tonic".

(Signed) Dr. A. T. Andrews.

Charles Long a user of World's Tonic writes, "After taking World's Tonic I feel better than for 20 years. Haven't language to express the impurities eliminated from my system".

World's Tonic is a big surprise to people who have used only ordinary bowel and stomach medicines because of its real and quick action.

Sale at Paisley's, Smith's, McKee's Kut Rate Store and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and all first class druggists.

TERRIBLE SORES

No Matter How Chronic, SAN CURA OINTMENT is Guaranteed to Give Relief and Often Permanent Cure.

"My daughter was troubled for over a year with a fever sore on her leg, and was helpless in bed for three months. To the great surprise of all, including the four doctors who had attended her, San Cura Ointment healed the great sore in less than six weeks".—J. D. Hood, Townville, Pa.

Karl C. Banks, of the Atlantic Refining Co., of Pittsburgh, had a sore on his ankle for a year. He doctored, and tried various remedies without relief. He says: "San Cura Ointment worked like a charm; reduced the swelling and healed the sore in two weeks".

Bear in mind, that besides sores San Cura Ointment is used with great success in eczema, boils, tetter, also itching, bleeding and protruding piles. In cases of burns, scalds, cuts and bruises, San Cura is most valuable. The price is only 30c, 60c and $1.25 a jar. All drug stores.

COMPLEXION SOAP.

If you want a lovely complexion, with soft, velvety skin, free from pimples and blackheads, try San Cura Soap. 25 cents at druggists.

Stomach So Bad He Staggers Like Drunk

"I suffered from stomach trouble, and had auto-intoxication so bad that I staggered like drunk. Since taking Adlerika, I feel like a new man, have gained 17 pounds and can do a better day's work".—F. J. Pooler.

Adlerika is a compound of the best saline intestinal cleanser with glycerine, buckthorn, cascara and other gas-expelling and detergent elements. It is excellent for Intestinal Stasis, a disease due to modern ways of living and which is often the true cause of sour stomach, gas bloating, nervous dyspepsia and restless sleep.

Unlike most medicines, Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, giving the intestines a REAL cleansing and bringing out old poisonous matter you never thought was in your system. Even if bowels move daily, you will be surprised how much more old matter Adlerika brings out which may have been causing all your trouble. In slight disorders, like occasional constipation, GAS bloating, indigestion or sick headache, ONE spoonful always brings relief.

Doctors Praise Adlerika

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria".

Dr. A. C. Curl: "I prescribe Adlerika with highly satisfactory results".

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika".

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated from my system".

Dr. F. M. P. (name withheld by request): "I use Adlerika in all bowel cases. Some require only one dose".

No matter what you have tried for your stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In New Castle at Love & Megown's.

JOURNALISM NOW TAUGHT

Westminster Branching Out Students Given New Advantages

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 12.—With journalism rapidly being ranked with law, medicine and engineering as a professional study in colleges and universities throughout the world, Westminster college is keeping pace with the times.

Journalisticly inclined students in colleges a few years ago had scant opportunity to obtain instruction by competent teachers without taking graduate courses. At Westminster not so long ago students were forced to limit tehir desire to write to furnishing material for "The Holcad" the weekly newspaper published by the student body and "The Argo" the yearbook edited by the Junior class.

A glance at he curriculum now reveals advancement. For the Freshman there is a course in composition that is required the first year. For advanced students those who have definitely expressed their desire to learn the finer points of writing, a course in higher composition is offered and taught by Dr. C. A. Dawson, head of the English department.

The newest departure is the introduction of a course in newspaper writing taught by Prof. R. X. Graham an instructor in the department of English. Prof. Graham is a graduate of Colgate where he was active as a member of the boards of the school's publication. He has worked on the staffs of several newspapers and during the past summer, he studied journalism at the University of Wisconsin.

It is the purpose of the class to delve into all phases of newspaper work. Regular assignments are given out while class periods are devoted to the study of specific types of stories as written in the nation's leading newspapers.

Eighteen students are in the class. About nine of these have decided on journalistic careers.

After all, it doesn't matter so much what a man stands for if he stands four-square.

State Federation Backs Move For State Supervision

Favors Control Of Tourist Lodging Places Along All Highways

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 12. — The Pennsylvania Motor Federation today announced its support of a move to place all "tourist lodging houses" under state supervision and control. The federation will back a move to have such legislation passed at the next session of the legislature.

Richard C. Haldeman, president of the federation, in a statement here today said he believed that the idea behind the thousands of signs offering accommodations to tourists "is much more mercenary than philanthropic." "The character and condition of a great many of these houses" was the basis upon which he urged supervision and control.

Haldeman's statement pointed out that hotels doing a legitimate business are compelled to fulfill certain requirements, guaranteeing sanitary conditions and adequate fire protection, but that thousands of houses along Pennsylvania's highways are permitted to operate as they please.

"In the opinion of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation," the statement said in part, "it is time that such houses as offer board and lodging to the motoring public be put under state supervision and control.

"In recent years Pennsylvania has become the touring mecca of most of the United States. Its wonderful highways and magnificent scenery warrant this condition. Shall this reputation be destroyed because of lack of supervision over this new industry that has sprung up over night?

"Millions of dollars are ready and waiting to be spent in our state by tourists anxious to travel over improved roads and see what nature has done for us. But the state will be shunned, as it was before we yanked ourselves out of the mud, if the condition complained of, is not remedied. The motor federation will support the enactment of remedial legislation designed to protect the motor traveler."

New Castle Student Writes Of Penn State

In the day's mail to the editor of The News was the following interesting letter, coming from a New Castle boy enrolled at Penn State, and telling of activities there, which have interested the New Castle contingent so far this year. His interesting letter follows:

220 E. Foster Ave.
State College, Pa.
Oct. 10, 1926

Editor News Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:—

After a vain attempt to get along with what newspapers there are at hand, I find that I must have the News. I get many letters but they never will supply what only the News can. Hence this letter and a subscription for the News.

Eight New Castle boys have entered Penn State this year. They are Eugene Wallace, Edward Long, Donald Allen, Donald Gillespie, Kenneth Hood, Herman Patton and Pomeroy Chapin who entered as sophomores, and myself. There are also some local boys in the upper classes.

There are many reasons for entering Penn State, among which are: The wonderful Penn State spirit, the excellent educational advantages and the beautiful location here among the mountains.

There is a wonderful democratic spirit here. Although many of the students are working part or all of their way through college, we have no favored group of students; every one is treated alike.

Stunt night is over and the frosh are breathing easier. On stunt night each frosh must go through an initiation by the sophomores. Among many diversions for the frosh the chief ones are: The gauntlet of paddles, the paddles had to be made by the frosh themselves according to to the sophs' specifications. There are about 800 sophomores, but all of them were not in the gauntlet. The second stunt is the molasses and sawdust feed. This is self explanatory. Third is the water bath from the fire hose. During all this a big bonfire was burning with wood which the frosh had to carry. The bonfire lasted all through the night and the next day. Of course there were many other "pleasing" features but the above are the "most pleasant".

Many people think going to college is a four-year loaf but nothing is farther from the truth. It really is a four-year period of hard study. Yes, there are some students who go to college just to live another four years on the "old man", but they are a minority here at Penn State. As I said before many of the students are working part or all of their way through college. I myself am barbering my way.

I want to say this, that no student who really desires an education need stop for lack of money. There is always work for him who wants it. But he need not expect an easy time of it, for college work is hard.

When I get my paper I expect a rush for my room by the New Castle boys.

Yours to do as you like.
Charles F. Christopher,

Pennsylvania Leading State

Exceeds All Others In Output Of Minerals For Year

COAL PRODUCTION PUTS STATE IN LEAD

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News).

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—With its enormous output of coal, Pennsylvania is the leading state in the production of minerals in the United States.

Not only does the Keystone State rank first in production of coal, but it is a large producer of cement, clay products and natural gas. Its total output of minerals in 1924, the latest year for which complete figures are available, amounted to $1,011,630,879, according to data just compiled by the United States Bureau of Mines. The commonwealth, in that year, produced 21.64 per cent, or more than one-fifth, of the entire mineral output of the nation, and the total value of Pennsylvania's mineral turn-out was more than double that of its nearest competitor.

Pennsylvania was followed by California as the second most important mineral producing state. The Pacific Coast State's total output of mineral products for the year reaching a value of $428,175,652, petroleum, natural gas, cement and natural-gas gasoline comprising the bulk of its production. Oklahoma, with its output made up largely of petroleum, zinc, natural gas and natural-gas gasoline, ranked third with production valued at $393,030,665. West Virginia held fourth place with a mineral output valued at $307,314,205, principally of coal, natural gas, petroleum and clay products. Texas, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky followed in order.

Browning Talks On His "Loveless Married Life" To Child Bride

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 12. — Edward W. Browning told in an interview of what he termed his "loveless married life" with his child-bride, the former "Peaches" Heenan.

The wealthy real estate operator declared that "from the time of his marriage six months ago until his wife left him ten days ago, she had been 'cold as ice'."

Browning said his wife's mother had been with them almost constantly since the marriage, despite his frequent suggestions that she leave. She slept in the same room with her daughter, he added.

"I believe Peaches married me because she wanted more ease in life,"—he declared. "And she benefitted in a physical way. She weighed only 110 pounds when we were married, and she weighed 165 when she suddenly departed.

"I am willing to give her anything she wants if she returns, but I never expect any thanks from her for anything I do."

Browning charged in conclusion that Mrs. Heenan told him she was taking her daughter away from him "because you won't give us a Park avenue apartment."

TO INSTALL NEW PASTOR

Formal Ceremonies To Occur At Bethel U. P. Church On Friday Evening

REV. G. N. NEILL IS NEW PASTOR

Church Building Has Been Remodeled—Special Services Planned

Formal installation exercises for Rev. George N. Neill, the new pastor who recently assumed his pastorate at the Bethel United Presbyterian church, will take place Friday evening, October 15, at 7:45.

The installation service will be in charge of Dr. S. E. Irvine, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of this city, assisted by Rev. Robert Hamill of the Mt. Jackson U. P. church, and Rev. C. F. Kennewig, pastor of the Oak Grove United Presbyterian church. Following the services a reception will be held by the congregation.

Mr. Neill is a recent graduate of the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary and a resident of Pittsburgh. He comes to the Bethel church with a wide and interesting experience. He served with the active overseas forces in France during the World War and has traveled and studied extensively abroad and for a number of years has been prominent as a leader in the Christian Endeavor organization of Pittsburgh as well as some other welfare organizations.

To Be Dedicated

Sunday morning, October 17, will mark the opening of another chapter in the history of Bethel congregation. The church building has undergone extensive remodeling and will be formally dedicated with appropriate exercises. The services will begin at 11 o'clock with Dr. R. M. McGranahan, secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the United Presbyterian church of North America as the principal speaker.

In the evening there will be informal dedicatory service at 7:45. Rev. R. N. Montgomery of the Pittsburgh Seminary, expects to attend and have part in the services along with some of the pioneer members of the church. The Young Peoples' orchestra will render special music dedicating at the same time the new piano which they have purchased for the Sunday School auditorium.

After preparatory services on Friday evening, October 22, and Saturday afternoon, October 23, the dedication services will conclude on Sunday morning, October 24, when communion will be observed. It will truly be a time of re-consecration.

A hearty invitation is extended to all former members and friends of Bethel church who have moved from the immediate community to be present at these services.

One Of Oldest

Bethel church is one of the oldest churches in the community. It was organized in 1798 on what was then known as the Sefton farm in Little Beaver Valley which later became the John McCown farm. The first place of worship was a crude tent-like structure which eventually gave place to a small wooden building. In 1804 the church was moved to the present location. On this site, in 1870, the present structure was erected. To meet the need of a growing community it was remodeled in 1904. But even this change was hardly adequate to answer to the wants of an active congregation, a growing Bible school and a live Young Peoples' organization and it was found necessary to once more remodel the building.

This was done in the spring of the present year, 1926. The church building was moved to a new foundation some fifty feet from the road and thoroughly renovated within and without. The change makes possible splendid Bible school rooms in the basement, as well as facilities for a dining room and kitchen.

One of the interesting features in the history of Bethel church is the fact that for more than forty years, one pastor, the Rev. J. S. Dice, ministered to the congregation. His widow and children with their children, are still faithful workers in carrying on the great work that he was compelled to lay down.

The British government at one time promoted lotteries, the famous British Museum having been founded by one which raised $500,000 to purchase the collection of Sir Hans Sloane.

A learned professor says college women should not marry; but then, of course, he never was one.

Children's Colds

Best Treated Externally

CONSTANT dosing upsets little stomachs. Modern mothers prefer to treat children's colds externally—with Vicks VapoRub. They simply rub it on the throat and chest at bedtime.

Vicks acts two ways at once:

(1) Like the old-fashioned poultice in "drawing out" the soreness and pain; and, at the same time,

(2) Like a modern vapor lamp because the body heat releases the ingredients in the form of medicated vapors which are inhaled all night long. These loosen the phlegm and open the congested air passages.

Most colds yield by morning to this double direct action.

Orders For Millions Of Trees Are Received

State Department Of Forests Has Orders For Over 5,000,000

Other News Notes Around State House Given By News Man

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct.12.—Orders have been received at the State Department of Forests and Waters for more than 5,000,000 trees for planting next spring. Orders already received exceed the total number of trees set out in the entire state two years ago. As the orders have been received they have been forwarded to the various state nurseries for filling. The state department expects to have at least twenty million trees for distribution next spring.

The new title law has been an effective blockade against the theft of automobiles, according to highway officials. Difficulty in selling cars without the accompanying title, under the provisions of the law, induces thieves to use them only for the time being and then abandoning them. The department keeps careful record of the automobiles recovered along the highways each month. The law has not reduced the number of cars which are stolen for short joyrides or by thieves to make a quick trip or getaway, according to highway officials, but it has made it possible for the owners to recover their cars after they have been abandoned. In August, the last month for which a complete summary was made, forty-six cars were recovered by highway officials.

An unusually rainy fall to date has not kept forestry department officials from taking the usual precautions against the fire season. Printed instructions have been sent out from the office of George H. Wirt, chief warden, to all the forest fire fighters through the state. Towermen already are on duty at some danger points and as soon as conditions warrant guards will be on constant watch at each of the one hundred high points of the state from which the blazes are spotted.

Statehouse employes have taken a great interest in seeing themselves in the movies. Films have been made in the various departments at the capitol showing the employes at work. The films are being shown in the House of Representatives. The films were made for the Sesqui-Centennial exposition and through the courtesy of the Sesqui commission copies were sent to Harrisburg for showing. A department whose film is being shown on a specific night acts as host to the other departments of the capitol.

The State Department of Health is the chief center of interest at the state building at the Sesqui-Centennial exhibition this week. Officials of the department have been busy for some time preparing exhibits to show the people of the state just how varied and helpful its activities are, "From the cradle to the grave" is literally true of the health department for its activities touch the lives and physical welfare of every inhabitant of the state.

Statisticians of the State Department of Agriculture have spent much time figuring just how many apples will be produced in Pennsylvania this year. The department has waged a long fight to induce Pennsylvanians to buy home grown apples rather than the imported ones. Thousands of bushels of apples are expected to go to waste in the state this year.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 12.—Extensive preparations for Westminster college's annual home-coming day observance next Saturday are being made. The feature event on the program will be the Thiel-Westminster football game at 2:30 p. m. Westminster's fine showing against Buffalo university and Bethany has aroused the grads and they are expected to return in great numbers.

Saturday is officially home-coming day but activities will begin Friday evening with a monster pep meeting in the college chapel. There will be no classes for the students Saturday morning. Chapel will be held at 11 a. m.

The chapel service will be elaborate. There will be pep talks while prominent grads will have a chance to speak to the undergraduate body. Athletic letters in several sports will be awarded and there will be plenty of cheering.

In the evening a get-together party will be held in the college gymnasium. Following this there will be open house at the fraternities and sororities. If the grid team is successful against Thiel there will in all probability be a mammoth bonfire on the college athletic field.

LAST SERVICE IN OLD CHURCH

Memorable Service Conducted By Presbyterians At Grove City

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 12.—A historic making event took place here Sunday when the congregation of the First Presbyterian church held their last services in the present structure that was dedicated in 1892.

On October 17 the congregation will march from the old church two blocks down Broad street to the new in a procession four abreast that it is expected will have 1000 of their 1400 members in line.

On the rear of the lot on which the present church home stands was built in 1847 a small frame structure without flooring, not plastered and with other pioneer handicaps to holding worship. This followed the organization of the Presbyterian congregation 79 years ago. In 1851 this shell was remodeled and improved. In 1852 came Rev. William T. Dickson, the first pastor, services prefacing that time being held at intermittent periods when a minister could be secured. In 1864 was further church building and then again in 1878. The structure of the last named date was combined in the remodeling in 1892. The church has had but five pastors. Rev. Dickson, already named, left in 1874. In 1875 Dr. W. J. McConkey succeeded him as the church pastor, retiring after 35 years in the ministry in 1910. Rev. Herbert Hezlip served from 1912 to 1914, Dr. Paul McConkey, son of the first named minister of that name from 1915 to 1920, when Dr. C. H. Williamson the present pastor came. There have been two lay assistant pastors, H. G. Wiley, who was here until his call to the First Presbyterian church of Tulsa, and J. H. Murtland the present official.

Following its vacation for church purposes of this week the church structure becomes the property of the Knights of Pythias Lodge of Grove City. They propose a lodge room. The auditorium of the church has been leased for a five year period by Grove City College for holding chapel.

Columbus Day, October 12, is being celebrated by the Sons of Italy Lodge of Grove City with a program for afternoon and evening, the chief features of which will be a parade in the afternoon with a band concert and fireworks in the evening. All Italian residents within a 15 mile radius are expected to attend this event which it is announced will be the most elaborate and costly of any given by the Italian colony. A line of 400 Italians will parade the main business section of the town prefacing a meeting in the armory where a speaking program will take place. The band of Butler will play a concerd at the athletic field of the college at 7 p. m., prefacing the fireworks display.

Harland Surrena commander of the Grove City Chapter of the American Legion, is making a record in the exercise of his duties of his office, members of the local post report.

He is a choice of the majority for re-election.

The announcement of Saturday of the purchase of the New Wilmington Gas company by the Union Heat and Light company of this city subject to confirmation by the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania means the consolidation of two strong companies.

The surplus gas from the field of the New Wilmington company in Springfield township has been piped into Grove City now for some years. The securing of a gas well on the Sherman Drake farm to the south of Mercer that will measure a half million feet a day makes the New Wilmington property very valuable.

Volunteers numbering 25, men and women, are asked for work on Thursday from the congregation of the First Presbyterian church. Preparation of the church for dedication on October 17 is the plan. The men are proposed to mop and sweep, the women to dust. Workmen will have finished their tasks by that time and be leaving the building.

The marriage was to have taken place October 2, but Miss Kenyon contracted a cold which later developed into influenza, necessitating a postponement of the wedding.

CHURCH 88 YEARS OLD IS DISBANDED

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 12.—The Kennerdell Presbyterian church 18 miles south of here, with 88 years of history is now a thing of the past.

Under orders of the Butler Presbytery it was decided to disband the church. The present building was erected on the farm of Francis and Mary Witherup at a cost of $1,670.

One of the last acts of closing the church was the holding of communion and the granting of letters to members so that they might unite with other churches.

The American Woman's Association has paid $1,400,000 for a site for its new clubhouse in New York City.

Sure Way To Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

Mrs. Protheroe Dies Suddenly

Word has been received in New Castle of the sudden death of Mrs. Hannah H. Protheroe, wife of Prof. Daniel Protheroe, of Chicago, Ill. The death came very suddenly to Mrs. Protheroe, when her husband was filling the office of adjudicator at the Eisteddfod of Jackson, Ohio, on October 1. Her body has been sent to Scranton, Pa., for burial.

Prof. and Mrs. Protheroe are well known among all classes of people in the city, because of the high standing of the professor in the musical world, being a great musical composer, and a good many of his compositions being sung from time to time in the churches. The last time he visited New Castle, he made his headquarters with his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Lewis, of Shaw street.

Aircraft Problem Looms Troublesome

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. — The controversy over the place of aircraft future warfare, prominently projected before the country by Col. William Mitchell, today again threatened to become a troublesome problem for the administration.

The new debate revolves around the question of whether 6,000 additional men, contemplated for the army air service the five year program, shall be taken from other branches of the service or from civil life.

The staunch defenders of the power of infantry and artillery in the next war fear that a determined effort will be made to subtract the air service's increment from the army. The position of the White House spokesman that there will be no increase in the army and navy has alarmed them.

General Pershing's vigorous plea for an adequate national defense has made him the unofficial leader of the preparedness group which is planning to carry its campaign into congress if necessary.

Returning from Philadelphia, General Pershing was summoned to the White House and given the opportunity to lay his views before the President in a lengthy conference.

Big Annual Fund To Aid King Otto

(International News Service)

BUDAPEST, Oct. 12.—Far from forgetting their Hapsburg sovereigns, the nobles of Hungary have decided to subscribe annually a large amount of money for the use of "King Otto," the heir of the late Emperor Charles. The money is to be used for his education and to allow him to have luxuries in keeping with his royal rank, now denied him in the plain surroundings of his exile home in Spain.

The noblewomen of Budapest also have bought a motor car for the Hapsburg prince. It is a large seven passenger car and is equipped luxuriously, the mountings being silver and engraved with the arms of the King of Hungary. It has been sent to Spain.

A part of the money allotted to the prince will be used to hire him a chauffeur and another part to buy him riding horses.

If the earth turned around in about an hour and a half instead of once in 24 hours, things would have practically no weight on the line of the Equator.

Jews and Quakers are said to be more subject to color blindness than people of other religions.

Tom Meighan In "Tin Gods" Pleases In Penn Theatre

Every movie fan knows and likes Thomas Meighan. "His Back Home and Broke" and many other features have added to his popularity and his latest picture "Tin Gods" playing the Penn is another reason why he is so popular.

The picture concerns a young engineer who marries a girl with political aspirations. A separation comes and he goes to South America to build a bridge only to fall sick. Carita, played by Renee Adoree cares for him, but when she hears that his wife is coming to visit the "Boss" she kills herself.

It is a dramatic picture, and is well delineated by the two stars and the supporting cast.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dorothy Miller Duckwitz will appear in a demonstration recital as an added attraction to the picture "Paradise" featuring Milton Sills and Betty Bronson.

Harmony, Hoofing And Hokum Pack 'Em In At Capitol

Whether you build a bridge, a meal, or an alibi for your wife, you must have just the right proportion of everything necessary, to make it look like a balanced job.

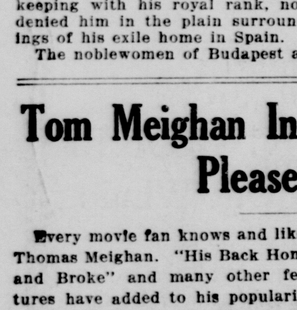

Same thing in building an entertainment program. A little of this, a little of that, and there you are. Harmony, hoofing and hokum is a combination guaranteed to please and the Capitol Theatre has the proper ingredients the first three days of this week.

Padgett and Lubin billed as "Two Sunflowers From Dixie" have a blackface act that deserves all the applause it got Monday night. The boys are from Georgia, and they certainly have been around a cotton field gang, for nobody in the world can sing "blues" like a Georgia darky. Padgett and Lubin have that Southern drawl which can't be imitated successfully, and the weird melodies they draw from a mouth-organ and a uke come out across the footlights with an encore tag hung on each number.

Dolly Lewis has an act which gets better as it progresses. The opening is nothing to run a temperature over, but her impersonation of a ribbon counter clerk, and her dish-washer number more than offset the opening. Dolly has that something which is natural to a born trouper. You'll like her.

The "Sunshine Revue" is a five girl act staged in a setting that looks like Fairbanks, Alaska on a cold morning. The girls do some varied hoofing with snowshoes on and in addition some dances that remind you of the days when dancing was an art not a contortion.

The picture is "Loving Lies" featuring the lad who is so well liked here, Monte Blue. With Monte is Evelyn Brent, Ethel Wales and a number of others. The picture is one concerning the married life of two young Americans which goes on the matrimonial rocks. A strong picture.

New Italy Given Praise By Mellon

Mellon In Pittsburgh Talk Visualizes New Italy And Economic Plan

TERMS MUSSOLINI DOMINATING FACTOR

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 12. — A new Italy, being built upon an economic foundation which will stand long after the dominating personality of Mussolini has been withdrawn, today stood visualized by Andrew Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, following his return from a summer trip abroad.

The Italian Premier-Dictator's measures, Mellon said, while unique, are evidently effective.

The Secretary expressed himself as impressed with the sincerity of Mussolini's work in rebuilding Italy from its state of semi-collapse immediately following the World War to its present condition.

Mussolini, Mellon pointed out, is a relatively young men, who, if spared from assassins, will probably continue as the active head of the state until the most of his economic measures have been firmly established.

Decreasing Interest In Religious Work Shown By Canvassers

People Do Not Respond To Campaign For $2,000 As Readily As Was Expected

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 12.—Just two canvassers came to the meeting in the First M. E. church Monday evening at which time the money for the $2,000 campaign for Religious Education in the schools, was to have been turned in along with the reports.

Several men who have worked on the campaign came to the home of Rev. A. M. Stevenson Monday afternoon and turned in the balance of the money which they had obtained, and after it had been gathered together, there was about $200 to add to the fund, which is now approximately $1,100.

Ellwood Protestants were enthusiastic about the idea of having religious education in the schools and a teacher was selected for the work and many bibles and other books were purchased to carry on the work. Just a few of the denominations have responded and are being allowed to carry the burden, according to the reports given by the canvassers.

NEW CASTLE P. H. C. MAKES SHARON VISIT

New Castle Degree Team In Charge Of Initiation Ceremonies

Possibly one of the largest gatherings ever held in the P. H. C. Temple at Sharon was that of Monday evening, when New Castle Circle, No. 5, was the guest of the parent circle, No. 1. With 16 circles represented in the large circle chamber in the home of the order, fully 300 members enjoyed the hospitality of Sharon, No. 1.

The parent circle is noted for being royal entertainers and this occasion was no exception to previous events carried out. Sharon simply packed the room to enjoy a program of unusual interest put on by New Castle, No. 5.

The famous New Castle degree team was in charge of the class initiation, followed with their wonderful drill, which was perfection, and was given deafening applause.

Supreme Auditor Dr. R. G. Baird presided throughout the program, to which the public was welcomed.

Perhaps the Junction City trio need no introduction to music loving public. And when presented they were greeted with a storm of applause. Lee Klaber, first tenor; John Zigarell, second tenor, and Cramer Bradshaw, baritone, possess rich, mellow voices, under wonderful control, and they were obliged to respond to repeated encores, well deserved.

One of their big hits came when John Zigarell convulsed his hearers with "When Tony Goes Over the Top".

Supreme Representative and Accountant of No. 5 gave an excellent address while the vocal selection by Miss Ruth Shook was an added beautiful number.

Supreme President S. H. Hadley gave one of his impressive addresses, while Supreme Secretary Hon. W. S. Palmer and Supreme Solicitor Hon. Fred Service added excellent remarks to the president's address.

Mrs. Mildred Boyle, Pulaski Circle, won new laurels with her vocal selection and Miss Anna Hammond of No. 5 shared in her honors.

As an accompanist Miss Johnson, who presided at the piano, has few, if any, equals.

Excellent remarks were contributed by Grand President of Ohio W. R. Jones and deputies, Mrs. J. E. Stetson, Sharon; Marie Purdy, Freedom; Mrs. McCandless, Mattie Riemble, Mrs. W. L. Canfield, New Castle, and Secretary Lillie B. Jones of the local circle.

At the close of the program a wonderful lunch was served with a splendid committee in charge. During this hour a splendid orchestra contributed to the delightful event, which at a late hour closed.

Sharon Circle, with its banner team, will be the guests of the local circle on Thursday evening, Oct. 21. The team will initiate a big class, demonstrating the wonderful exemplified degree in all the beauties and mysteries of the order.

LILLIE B. JONES,
Secretary.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Mrs. Florence Smith Vincent

TWO SIDES TO THE SURPRISE

Pat's brown eyes were filled with wonder. He had fallen in love with the boy at first sight, and was ready to do his bidding. But a look, a word and Pat would have jumped to the boy's command. A frown, and Pat would have been miserable. A smile, and Pat's tail would have wig-wagged with joy. But then, Pat was a dog, and in that wonderful way that dogs have would have known what every move, every word of his beloved Two-Legs meant. His understanding was quite to be expected. But that the boy should understand him, should answer his question, was beyond his wildest dreams. The most he had hoped for was to prove his own devotion by leaps and bounds and yelps and moist kisses. Pat felt the queerest quivery feeling 'way down inside of him.

The boy, though, didn't act as if he thought there was anything out of the ordinary about it. At Pat's earnestness he chuckled and tweaked Pat's ear, patting the paw upon his knee.

"I knew what you said, old fellow, because I understand the language of all living things. I—"

Right then and there Pat was rude for almost the first time in his life. He did the very thing that a well brought up Irish terrier is taught not to do. He spoke out of turn.

"Are you, can you be the boy who saved the life of the Old Oak Tree, the boy to whom the Old Oak Tree in gratitude gave the magic power of speech with all the outdoor folk?"

The boy nodded.

"Yes, I'm Peter!" said he, but—"

"A LITTLE BIRD" BARKED PAT, HIS FACE SCRUNCHING UP INTO A FUNNY DOG SMILE.

For the second time in not more than a minute Pat interrupted.

"Can you really become as little as a bee or as large as a bear when you meet one or the other face to face?" demanded he.

Again Peter nodded. Now 'twas the boy's eyes that were wide with surprise.

"I can, but what made you ask me that? Who in the world could have told you?"

"A little bird!" barked Pat. Then seemingly without any reason Pat's face crinkled up into a funny dog smile.

HARRY WILLS AND TOM SHARKEY BATTLE TONIGHT

Wills Favored To Win Fight

Tune-Up Bout For Chance At Heavyweight Title Will Be Staged At Brooklyn

BOTH FIGHTERS ARE CONFIDENT

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again like the milk man at 1:45 a. m., or words to that general effect.

The truth about Harry Wills, who helped to hound one world's heavyweight champion into defeat and another beyond the nether side of the color line, may be told in ten syllables at Ebbets field tonight or it may be that, at the end of 15 rounds with Jack Sharkey, this mystery man of fistiana will be as much of a competitive enigmatist as ever. It looks, however, as though Wills may have picked a live one by mistake.

Has Fragile Jaw.

The great minds will tell you that Harry can't fight an actual lick; that the good ones are barred from his gymnasium workouts in order that an illusion of grandeur may be preserved for Wills and for the public. They say he has a fragile jaw, that his legs are human rubberoid and that his hands are as brittle as so much peanut candy.

This may or may not be so; perhaps tonight's returns will supply the answer. Sharkey is no Tut Jackson, Charlie Wienert, Floyd Johnson or Jack Thompson. He seems to be quite a young man when the spirit moves him and the writer has seen him moved—both back on his heels from a punch on the jowl and into furious action from the same source of inspiration.

Yet the idea persists that Sharkey may not be all that he seems. He is fast, hits well with both hands and is an excellent boxer, just the type that figures to annoy Wills. The man is a fool who decides that safety is best achieved by holding on with Harry. He fears that kind in two with his holding and hitting.

But the man who steps around and keeps Wills at a distance has more of a chance. He has the fight half won before he starts.

Sharkey may be that man. He has proved that he has everything exception the most essential virtue of the fighting man. Sharkey has yet to prove that he really likes, or even tolerates, the theory that full many a punch on the chin is worth two in the anteroom, provided the latter are applied immediately.

Sharkey is Lazy.

Somehow, the writer has gained the impression that Sharkey gets virtually no gratification from a punch on the chin. I may be wrong in this tentative diagnosis but others have recognized it with the explanation that he is lazy or that he lacks the inclination. Others less charitable have used a shorter and stronger word.

However, the boy wouldn't be meeting Wills if he didn't think he could beat him and perhaps he has the smart ones fooled, including Harry himself. One of the few times that worthy has gone to the races with a reasonably good man, to wit, Bartley Madden, he failed to score a knockout in 15 rounds and several times was in such a precarious way that he started for the wrong corner.

If that was Wills' real speed, any enterprising gent with ten years or more of a pull in the ages, should be able to take the play away from the aging colored man. But if he goes in there scared silly, Wills will cut him down like a stalk of corn. Harry likes that kind.

A common misfortune binds married people closer unles it is that of being married to one another.

Light Workout For Grid Team

Coach Bridenbaugh Sends High Grid Eleven Through Signal Drill

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh was all smiles as he stepped out on Ben Franklin field on Monday afternoon to instruct the New Castle high gridders in their initial practice session of the week.

The reason the popular mentor had such a broad smile and grin on his face was due to the fact that he was mighty well pleased with the showing the boys made Saturday against Grove City high.

The practice session yesterday was not what one would term a severe one. The boys were sent through an hour of signal drilling and then excused for the afternoon. Coach Bridenbaugh gave the varsity team a few new plays and these will be dwelled on for the remainder of the week.

A much more intensive drill awaits the team today whey don their uniforms for rehearsal was the sum and substance of a statement from Bridenbaugh following the workout on Monday afternoon.

Butler high, long ancient foes of the local high teams will be the attraction here next Saturday afternoon. Mars high defeated Butler 6 to 0 in the game played Saturday at Butler, which would serve as an indication that Butler high will be mighty strong

OH, MR. DOOLEY!

He's The Finest Passer Dartmouth Team Boasts

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Mr. Eddie Dooley, who tossed a football with one hand and wrote adorable poetry with the other for Dartmouth two years ago, is "one of 'em" again at the Hanover institution. Wherefore gladness reigns—or somthing like that.

Dooley was one of the outstanding stars of the team two years ago and then was forced to drop out of college. His departure was felt keenly on the grid, as well as around the campus.

He is one of the best forward passers the big green team has had in years, with the exception of Swede Oberlander. And good passers are important in these air days. He is a brilliant runner with the ball, too. Boasts the weight to make him rugged and yet not enough to slow him down, but it is his passing that is needed most.

His presence on the team gives Coach Hawley a backfield that should hold its own in the big games with Yale, Harvard and Cornell, the big games on the Dartmouth schedule. Richard Black, a sophomore, is destined to be the line plunger of the backfield. He has already shown some brilliant work in hitting the line. Myles Lane's speed at quarter seems destined to put him in the star class. Capt. Horton, Bob McPhail give Hawley two other good backs—a total of five who can be alternated easily.

Dooley's distinction of being Dartmouth's "poet laureate" while writing zigzags on the football field won him much fame. Eddie would write an ode to a nightingale, or what have you before lunch, and then go out and bewilder Cornell or some other well developed team in the afternoon by the way he hurled the ball around. There was never any indication between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. Saturdays that his tenderest moments were devoted to wooing the muse.

Harvard Team Draws Attention

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Day by day the football aspects and prospects at Harvard are drawing more and more attention. The debut of Arnold Horween as coach was enough to arouse early interest in the team. The unexpected defeat at the hands of Geneva increased the interest—if not the respect — for the team.

And now we find Crimson adherents in a rather bitter mood toward the faculty over what is termed rather harsh measures used in disciplining two members of the team—men who were counted on to help lift Harvard higher in the game.

Ted Crosby and Jake Turner, two regulars, have been disqualified for failure to pass an examination in French. Harvard adherents do not ask the faculty to turn a blind eye to deficiencies in studies. Their attitude is, however, that such drastic action wasn't necessary.

Turner played center last season and is given credit for having saved the day for Fair Harvard against Yale. Crosby is a beautiful defensive player.

The loss of these two men is a severe blow to Horween, who, of course, isn't saying a word.

The interest aroused in the recent Dempsey-Tunney fight and the creation of a new champion has revived interest in the heavyweight game, there can be no doubt. The Wills-Sharkel affair can be listed as the first of a series of heavyweight battles that will be shoved at the public this winter, including the series Tex Rickard has in mind.

Our only hope is that those putting on the heavies (no reference to underwear) will have the good judgment to cross off their lists the boys who fall by the wayside early in the rush and not foist on the public a lot of mugs who never will get any

Speaking of heavies. Gene Tunney is bound to be a popular champion despite whatever cool opinion some critics may hold regarding his ability. He is a gentleman first, last and always. The more one looks back over Dempsey's career the more one is impressed with the knowledge that the brightest pages in his reign, in a way, were those in which he showed a serious desire to absorb some of the finer things in life. These desires did little to satisfy the boxing fans yet they were natural ones for Jack. He spoke a different language the night he collected his pay for his battle with Gene Tunney than he did the day he entered the east as a two-fisted hard guy, living on haymakers and the biggest steaks money could buy.

Decorators Win At Volley Ball

The Decorators won their second straight givtory in the 5-game series with the All-Star team in a volley ball game played at the Shenango pottery on Monday night. The score was 15 to 11.

Howard Robinson and Joe Must were the stars for the losers, while Elmer Robinson and Young were the best bets for the Decorators.

Westminster To Meet Thiel Team Next Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 12.—Westminsterites are at last excited about their football team. To an uninterested party the feat of holding Bethany to a 7-7 tie would carry little weight but with those who have followed the Blue and White elevens of the past few seasons with any degree of intensity the outcome of the Bison struggle convinced them that the team has power and will bear mighty close watching during the remainder of the season.

The eleven will find a royal welcome when it again appears on the home field. This appearance will be next Saturday when Thiel is to be met in a Tri-State conference tilt as the feature event of Westminster's annual Home-Coming day program.

There is nothing that will attract an old grad back to the scenes of his college days like the promise of an interesting grid game in which his eleven has an equal chance of winning. Saturday's tie with Bethany which followed closely the 38-0 defeat handed Buffalo University has spread oil over the troubled waters and all hands will be on deck next Saturday to watch Dwight Beede's men use the Carnegie Tech system against Thiel's Pitt system as taught by Tommy Holleran.

Coach Beede failed to comment on the play of the team against Bethany but there was the look on his face following the final whistle which spoke louder than words that he was pleased. Bethany presented a squad composed of 13 letter men, as against three for Westminster and yet the Blue and White carried the fight into Bison territory during almost the entire second half and scored as many first downs during the fray.

Ayers, a guard, was the only regular injured Saturday but he was in uniform Monday afternoon as the grind in preparation for Thiel was started. McQuiston, halfback, lasted the entire game despite a bad knee and there is every chance that he will be at his regular position next Saturday.

Junior Grid Happenings

The New Castle Apprentices and New Castle Colored Stars grid teams battled to a 6 to 6 tie recently. The game was played on Boyles field. Jocobs and Jordon scored the touchdowns.

The New Castle Apprentice team would like to schedule games with all 15 to 18 year old teams in the city or county. For games call C. Henry at 861-R.

The Red Grange Midgets won a forfeit game from the New Castle Juniors Saturday morning on Elders field, when the later team failed to show up for their scheduled battle.

The North Hill Midgets defeated the Sheridan Avenue Stars 33 to 0 in a game played at Marvin field. John Young, Joe Knorr and Jack Dunnigan scored the touchdown for the victors. Following is the lineup of the Midgets: Johnny Wilson, end; Paul Capitolo, tackle; Eddie Young, guard; Hogue, center; Ed Marvin, quarterback; John Young, halfback; Joe Knorr, fullback and the following substitutes, Dunnigan for Young; Gerald Young for Eddie Young.

The Stars used the following line up: Dunlap, tackle; Moore quarterback; Cramer, halfback; Leighty, guard; Hazen, tackle; Devale, center; Jamison, fullback; Kenneth Dunnigan was the referee.

AUTO STEALING RING BROKEN BY RECOVERY OF $60,000 IN CARS

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 12.—With five arrests and the recovery of $60,000 worth of automobiles department of justice agents believe they have uncovered the largest automobile theft ring in the Tri-state district.

Those under arrest here are H. R. Weaver a former justice of the peace; John Anatao and Frank de Frank. All were bound over to the federal grand jury.

Government men say scores of high priced cars wer stolen in Pittsburgh and disposed of here cheap.

FALL OF STONE KILLS MINER

Cinci Reds To Go After New Pitchers

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The Cinci Reds will present a much different crew to the public next season. You can hang your hat on that one. Jack Hendricks is going to have some new pitchers—retaining possibly only three of his present staff of regulars. There will be at least one new outfielder. And Clarke Pittenger, infielder purchased for a fortune from Louisville may not be the only new infielder on the team.

Hendricks is convinced that had he been able to land a high-class shortstop early in the season he would have won the flag. He tried his best. Garry Hermann took the rubber band off the bankroll and offered the Baltimore team $75,000 for Joe Boley, only to find Connie Mack had the inside track on that star. Then Garry tried in earnest—$50,000 worth of earnestness—to purchase Pittinger from the Louisville club. That club refused to part with the former Chicago Cub and Red Sox rookie until near the close of the season.

The failure of Tom Sheehan to come through in the box for Hendricks was a grave disappointment. While Hendricks' pitching staff looked strong on paper at all times the last few seasons he has been unable to get it into consistent winning form for any period of time. It is probable that he will use one or two members in trades over the winter.

Another thing in baseball is sure at this time. That is that Walter, alias "Dutch" Ruether, will once more be a baseball enigma in 1927. His perambulations in the regular season of 1926 and then his showing in the world's series make this bet an easy one.

To go back a bit farther. It will be recalled that Ruether, after a successful season with the Washington Senators in 1925, was not used in the world's series which the Senators let slip through their fingers, legs or brains. The reasons given for Harris' failure to send the left-hander into the seventh and final game have ranged from the Washington manager's dislike for the colors Dutch effected in his ties to the scampering of a black cat across the ball park just before Mr. Ruether's entrance. Between these was the intimation that Ruether had not been informed the night before that he would be called upon to pitch the next day and therefore did not get enough sleep.

Came the summer, as the movies say. The Senators decided Ruether was done. When no other club was looking they put him in the show case and Miller Huggins picked him out, wrapped him up and took him home, to help the Yankees win the pennant. Whereupon the owners of six American league clubs were asked repeatedly how they happened to let Ruether get away. The Washington Senators, being out of it anyhow, had very little extra mail as a result.

When the world's series arrived comment was "rife" or right next door to it, regarding the possibility of Huggins using the cunning lefty against the Cardinals. Huggins answered the question quickly—and Ruether settled the question as to what he could do before the fans began to discuss that angle.

Now Dutch has never been a great pitcher over a period of more than a season. He hasn't had a permanent home since he began his baseball career. He has caused every manager and club owner introduced to him a lot of woe after his departure through his happy faculty of breaking out for his new employers.

And there is no reason to believe that his status is any more fixed now than it was when the Senators let him go for $4,000.

So, what'll he be doing next year, about Sept. 28?

"Babe" Ruth Gets Largest Contract Ever Given Player

(International News Service)

Ruth's last contract, which was for three years, expired September 26. It called for $52,000 a season.

Bernstein Wins From De Marco

Lightweights Battle Viciously For 10 Rounds At Pittsburgh

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO STAGE RETURN TILT

By ED FRITZ.

Jack Bernstein and Cuddy De Marco, lightweights, fought a million dollar fight before a slim crowd last night at Motor Square Garden, Pittsburgh, but we're willing to bet a spare tire rim to a 1927 "kelly" that there'll be a $10,000 gate when they battle two weeks hence. Bernstein won the decision.

Bernstein, former junior lightweight, arrived in his corner piloted by George Engle while Cuddy leaped through the ropes with Red Mason in the rear. As soon as Engle and Mason saw each other and the fans become cognizant of the fact they let out a roar as both managers are bitter enemies, the rivalry dating back to the first time Harry Greb, former middleweight champion flited from Mason to Engle, then back again.

Real Fight.

For the first two rounds Bernstein and De Marco fiddled around the ring like two bulldogs testing their strength, but caution was tossed to the winds when Bernstein opened with sweeping left crosses to Cuddy's chin and the Mason entry replied with a left jab and left hook. These blows produced an assortment of blows that were fast and furious and when the fifth round had been ushered in the lightweights were battling like two fiends, pulling all sorts of ring tricks and the fans were upon their toes shouting.

To say that Bernstein won by a wide margin would be bamboozling the public. Cuddy flashed and took the lead and on various occasions both were woozy from punches. Nither backed away and only grabbed each other when hurt by punches that flashed from all angles. In clinches the battlers pounded each other with the regularity of a gatling gun and when the last bell sounded they were fighting like two rivel gangsters in the center of the ring.

Sign Again.

As soon as the match had been ended Matchmaker Johnny McGarvey quick to sense the attiude of a sadistic mob, presented each manager with a set of articles. Mason, manager of the losing De Marco was only too quick to sign and Engle, with a smile curled about his face and a decision in his pocket also attached the pen point to the papers. Hence another good fight is in prospect for Pittsburgh fans.

It's cheaper to live in a small town. There's no incentive to put up a $10,000-a-year front where everybody knows you get $35 a week.

Italian Bulldogs Defeat Bearcats

Independent Champions Of 1925 Open Season With 6 To 0 Victory — "Dutch" Ross Stars

The Italian Bulldogs independent champions in the season of 1925, opened their 1926 campaign for championship honors on Monday night at the B. & O. grounds by defeating the Italian Bearcats 6 to 0. The game was one of the hardest fought of the season, and was replete with thrills of all natures.

The game was rough in spots, with the playing hard and furious, both teams realized that they would get the jump for the championship by a victory. The Bulldogs had the ball near the goal line on several occasions but lacked the punch to carry it over. The Bulldogs completed ten out of eleven forward passes and made more first downs than did the Bearcats.

The Bulldogs' score came late in the final quarter of the game, Marino gained thirty yards on a pass, General and F. Ross brought the ball to the 20 yard line, Marino made eight yards to the 12 yard line, "Dutch" Ross carried the ball over on three successive drives at center and tackle.

"Yanks" Marcella and Fernati played a fine game at end, Fernati received eight forward passes for gains of from 10 to 18 yards, and also played a fine defensive game. Fred Marcella at center and Ray Campoli at guard also played good football for the winners. Marino's passing, punting and field generalship was a feature of the Bulldog victory.

"Dutch" Ross was one of the outstanding stars of the battle and it was only through the efforts of this gentleman that the Bulldogs managed to squeeze out their victory.

Captain Bill Augostine was the main cog in the losers' attack, he punted nicely, passed with an accuracy, ran the ends like a veteran and bucked the line with the effectiveness of a truck. Amos Augostine at fullback also played a good game for the Bearcats. DeCarbo, Pascarella and Sam Campoli played good football on the line for the losers.

The lineup:

A Test Or A Set-Up? By Feg Murray

Christopher Columbus did some landing on these shores some 434 years ago today, and so now Harry Wills and Jack Sharkey are going over to Ebbets field in Brooklyn to try and do some landing on each other to celebrate the event in proper style. Humbert Fugazy is promoting the bout, which insures its being on the square. (If it wasn't it no doubt would be staged at Columbus Circle in Manhattan.)

But to get down to the business at hand, is Jack Sharky of Boston a worthy opponent for the Brown Panther, or is the Brown Panther a worthy opponent for Jack Sharkey? It all depends on which group you belong to, those who claim that Wills is a much-abused gladiator, who would have had no trouble at all in knocking out the Tunney and the Dempsey that we saw splash around in the rain at the sesqui stadium last month, or those who insist that he is a great over-rated dub who has never beaten a really good man.

Harry Wills deserved a crack at Dempsey's title—no doubt about that—but why did he injure his reputation so by fighting the Weinerts and the Johnsons? And is there any chance that Jack Sharkey will give Wills a big surprise? Sharkey has beaten George Godfrey, Johnny Risko, Jim Maloney, King Solomon, Jack Renault, Eddie Huffman, etc.—nobody that Wills couldn't beat assuredly. And a further perusal of Jack's record discloses the bad news that he was knocked out by Romero Rojas, the Chili bean, and lost to Charlie Weinert and Bud Gorman in 1925.

In Jack's favor, it may be said, however, that he is just 24 years old, ten years younger than his opponent, and that he is a fine boxer, with a peach of a left hand. If Wills fights fair, it may be quite a battle, but don't get too excited over the winner's chances of meeting Tunney. Gene has said he will fight only for Tex Rickard. Wills has said the same for Humbert Fugazy. And Sharkey has a contract, made six months ago over the long distance telephone, to box the new heavyweight champ, but it didn't do him any good.

Feg Murray Says—

No, Esmeralda, when they speak of William and Mary scoring at Cambridge, they don't mean Bill Tilden and Mary Browne.

Jack Hulme's Dream Prophecy Comes True

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 12.—"He is a dreamer of dreams." The title can now be worn by Jack Hulme, swimming instructor at Westminster college and trainer of the Blue and White eleven.

Last Friday night, the eve of the Westminster-Bethany game at Wellsburg, W. Va., Hulme slept with Dwight "Dyke" Beede, Westminster's head coach in the Charleston hotel at Wellsburg. On arising Saturday morning, Hulme greeted Beede with the words, "last night I saw "Red" Crowell make a touchdown running along the sideline." Beede laughed it off with "I hope it comes true."

What happened during the game is history. Crowell received a pass during the second quarter from McQuiston while standing on Bethany's 45-yard line and he raced the remainder of the distance for a touchdown which paved the way for Westminster 7-7 tie with the Bisons. And he ran along the sideline the entire distance.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

How Secession Came About—Part Two.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

HAVING NO VALUABLE STAPLE SUCH AS TOBACCO OR COTTON FOR EXPORT, THE NORTHERN COLONIES EARLY TURNED TO MANUFACTURING. AS WHITE MEN WERE ABLE TO DO BETTER WORK THAN NEGROES IN THE MILLS AND FACTORIES AND WERE BETTER SUITED TO THE COLDER CLIMATE OF THE NORTH, THERE WAS LITTLE DEMAND FOR BLACK SLAVES EXCEPT AS HOUSE-SERVANTS.

DURING AND AFTER THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR, ALL THE NEW ENGLAND STATES AND THE MIDDLE STATES AS FAR SOUTH AS PENNSYLVANIA PASSED LAWS PROHIBITING SLAVERY. LATER, NORTHERN MEN OPPOSED TO SLAVERY INSISTED THAT THE SOUTHERN STATES SHOULD DO LIKEWISE.

IT WAS GENERALLY BELIEVED IN THE NORTH THAT EVERY SOUTHERN PLANTER WAS HARSH AND CRUEL TO HIS SLAVES. IT IS CERTAINLY TRUE THAT THE NEGROES WERE SOMETIMES PUNISHED, BUT THE AVERAGE PLANTER TRIED TO KEEP HIS SLAVES HEALTHY, HAPPY AND EFFICIENT.

AT THE CLOSE OF THE REVOLUTION, THERE WERE MANY SOUTHERN STATESMEN WHO CONSIDERED SLAVERY AN EVIL THAT WOULD GRADUALLY PASS OUT OF EXISTENCE. WHEN THE CONSTITUTION WAS DRAWN UP (1787) NOTHING WAS DONE ABOUT SLAVERY EXCEPT TO FORBID IMPORTATION OF NEGROES AFTER 1808.

RADIATOR PLANT TO BE DOUBLED; TO EMPLOY 700

tension to the foundry means an enlargement of the boiler department, with a consequent increase of output and personnel.

The improvement or addition is not just projected, it has actually started, the steam shovels being at work already, and in speaking of the men necessary to do the work, J. T. Lutz, district superintendent of the H. K. Ferguson Company of Cleveland, said Monday afternoon: "We will need labor and materials immediately. Men who want work can be accommodated within a few days. This will deplete the present supply of floating labor here. Material men are already bidding on the supplies which will be needed.

H. K. Ferguson, Contractor

The contract for the work has been awarded to the H. K. Ferguson Company of Cleveland, O., with the stipulation that the extension building must be completed in 55 days from the time of starting and the larger building in four months. With any kind of weather Mr. Lutz is confident that this can be accomplished and the work is being rushed right from the start.

At the present time the National Radiator Company employs about 325 men. When the new work is completed and operations are under way it is estimated that some 700 men will be employed.

The project of the National Radiator Company is one of the largest industrial developments made locally in some time and will be received here with the enthusiasm it deserves.

THREE NOISE MAKERS PAY FIVE DOLLARS

Joseph Conti, Kerber and Winick and E. Lattavo, paid five dollar fines Monday at police court on the charges of making unnecessary noises in going up hills of this city with their automobiles. Motorcycle Officer Richards was the officer ordering them in. Lattavo was going up Lutton street hill when ordered in, while the two others were going up North Jefferson street hill with their cutouts in working order.

LIBRARY BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT

The monthly meeting of the New Castle Library board members will be held tonight at the local library building. Much business will be discussed concerning the library work.

Contentment is merely the victory of mind over what's the matter.

MEN'S MEETING GREAT SUCCESS

were present and they not only heard an outstanding address, they helped to make the meeting successful by pouring out their souls in song.

Parade Impressive.

Meeting at the First Baptist church, the Bible classes formed in a column of twos and headed by the Croton band, marched to the First Presbyterian church.

It was an impressive sight as they marched down Washington street. Traffic was halted, crowds lined the sidewalks and men and women paused to pay tribute to an army of men who were not ashamed of the faith they profess.

Inside the church the classes were assigned seats as they arrived and E. J. Berquist, superintendent of the City Rescue Mission, opened the meeting. He introduced the chairman of the evening, Robert A. McKinney, a business man who has always found time to advance the workings of Christian institutions.

Mr. McKinney was frankly delighted with the size of the crowd, nor did he keep his enthusiasm to himself. He called upon three of the newer preachers here, Rev. C. B. Wingerd of the Central Presbyterian church, Rev. Samuel Maxwell of the Epworth M. E., and Rev. J. L. English of the Croton M. E. They were called to the platform and introduced and took part in the service.

Rev. Leichliter and Peter Quartel then sang two duet numbers and the crowd swung into several good old time hymns with Mr. Quartel directing and Edwin Lewis at the piano.

For the text, Rev. Leichliter chose "For What Shall it Profiteth a Man to Gain the Whole World Though He Lose His Own Soul." It was a sermon with meat in it, a sermon that could be enjoyed by red-blooded men and the 500 men present did enjoy it to the limit.

Monday night's meeting is but the start of a week of special gospel meetings in the First Presbyterian church. Every night this week, including Saturday night, Rev. Leichliter and Peter Quartel will conduct services in the First Presbyterian church, starting at 7:30. It is an opportunity that few churchgoers want to miss.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Members of the midget class at the local Y. M. C. A. are planning a stunt day for next Saturday, when they will meet in their regular classes. They would like to have many visitors.

The ministers of New Castle are planning to start a gym class of their own, to be held on Saturdays, beginning at 10 o'clock. The ministers are to be commended on this as it is the first time that this has ever been tried here. A large attendance is expected at this class, where they shall have use of the gym and swimming pool.

On Thursday of this week the Y. M. C. A. of New Castle will put out a little pamplet, entitled Y. M. C. A. News. It will be in charge of John Leonard, as editor in chief, and his assistant Carl Hanna, who is social editor. This is the first time that this has been tried in this city, and the Y leaders look for it to be a huge success. This will be sent to all members free of charge. It is expected that it will be a monthly magazine.

Stock Exchanges Observe Columbus Day As National Holiday

STOCK PRICES ARE BUOYANT

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Director

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Columbus Day is now observed as a legal holiday in 31 states, including the states in which the New York stock market, Chicago Board of Trade, New Orleans Cotton Exchange and the Kansas City Grain Exchanges operate. Consequently the suspension of business today in these exchanges, as well as the banking institutions of the 31 states and many of the representative industrial enterprises, constitutes the nearest approach to a national holiday of any of the so-called sectional holidays.

For a period of about ten days there has been an almost uninterrupted decline in stock prices, bringing the general average of prices down about eight points from the level of October 1. This movement, which is believed to be principally a speculative "shake out" and an uncovering of stop-loss orders in the speculative leaders, has restored the general level of industrial stock prices to that of the first day of January of this year.

It is rather remarkable that in the nine months' period since last December, a period containing one of the most disastrous declines and one of the most sensational advances in the whole history of speculation, so little real change should have occurred in the average price of representative railroad and industrial stocks traded in on the New York Stock Exchange.

Compare Prices

This is not to say that prices of all stocks, or even of all groups of stocks, are now at exactly the same level as on the first of the year. But the declines in some groups have obviously exactly offset the advances in others, as the following comparison of stock prices amply demonstrates.

Average closing prices of

Date	20 Rails	20 Indus.
Jan. 1, 1926	93.86	123.98
Feb.-Mar. low, 1926	84.51	100.11
June 30	93.07	116.01
Aug.-Sept. high	102.60	130.49
Close Oct. 11	96.00	118.66

Making allowance for the statistical loss of 3.50 points in the changing of General Motors to the new valuation following the 50 per cent stock dividend makes the October 11 average 122.16, compared with 123.98 at the opening of the year.

Wall Street's position at the present time may be briefly described as bullish on business and bearish on the stock market. In other words, while a season of good business and satisfactory profits for the big industrial concerns lies just ahead, it is believed that stock values have risen too fast and have outdistanced the comparative earnings and the ability to pay dividends.

Wall Street bankers say that the industrial concerns have added enormously to their surplus funds in the last four years. This new wealth has been built on solid ground. There has been no inflation. Inventories are normal and incoming orders satisfactory. All of which indicates that, disregarding the movement of stock prices, there is absolutely nothing to worry about.

of national political conventions, even was started.

As speaker after speaker, including two official representatives of the French government, referred to Paris as the site of the 1927 convention, the delegates stood upon their chairs and cheered.

The "time and place" committee attempted to bring forward its report recommending Paris this morning, but lack of time prevented and formal vote will be taken tomorrow. The legionnaires were to parade this afternoon.

Great Ovation For Pershing.

SESQUI AUDITORIUM, Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of America's world war hosts, unexpectedly appeared before the American Legion today. As he came down the center aisle of the auditorium he received an ear-splitting ovation that left no doubt but that he will be the next national commander unless he absolutely refuses.

Erect and handsome in his uniform, "Black Jack" stood before the microphone while the convention went wild. He told them that he came to make no speech, but merely to say "howdy" and review them on parade in the afternoon.

"I shall expect to see every one of you turn out in your best uniform," he admonished them. "Every man who shaves must have a clean face, shoes must be polished and everybody must be in alignment as the reviewing stand is passed."

Pershing said he noticed that in most speeches, advice was given.

"Now I want to say that you men need no advice as to how to conduct yourselves in private life. You men who went forth to war for the greatest cause ever known, are the ones who should give advice."

Brands As Malicious Lies Rumors Of French Sentiment Against America

(International News Service)

SESQUI AUDITORIUM, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Down the center aisle of the Sesqui auditorium today came the last of the French taxicabs that carried the troops to the first battle of the Marne.

At the wheel was Sedley Peck, Paris Post No. 1, and he carried to the platform a steel box containing messages of greeting from Marshal Foch, Premier Poincare, Minister of Foreign Affairs Briand and President Doumergue of France.

Every message expressed pleasure that the legion was to gather in Paris in 1927 and each mention of this brought an ovation.

Bringing official greetings from France, Col. Yves Picot, president of the "busted mugs" branded as "the barkings of some angry pug dog", the talk of anti-American sentiment in France.

"Ah, Comrades", he said, "do not believe that those hours when your hearts and ours beat in unison have been forgotten by the French. Do not pay any attention to those who have taken the barkings of some angry pug dog for manifestations. I, who live in Paris can tell you no manifestations were ever held. Speaking in the name of all the French and of their government, speaking also in the name of the French veterans and mutilated, of whom I am the big brother and who have confided in me, I tell you on their behalf, comrades of the American Legion, the cheers that greeted you in 1917 you will hear again in 1927".

tory factors that led to this latest rampage of gangland. Federal agents, coroner's deputies, police officials and the staff of the state's attorney's office were conducting their own inquiries.

Those killed in yesterday's battle were:

Earl "Hymie" Weiss, gang leader and successor to the late Dean O'Banion, and Paddy Murray, gangster brother of Jimmy Murray who was sent to prison for his part in the recent Rondout mail robbery.

William W. O'Brien, prominent criminal lawyer, noted for his defense of gangsters, was perhaps fatally wounded. O'Brien at present is engaged as attorney for Joe Saltis, gangster ally of Weiss, charged with first degree murder.

Benny Jacobs, investigator for O'Brien; Edward "Nigger" Goldberg, an alleged lieutenant of Weiss and Sam Peller, another friend of Weiss, were seriously but not fatally wounded.

No Action Taken On Kirker's Request

Council today took no action on the request of Albert Kirker, Andrews street, for a refund of $130.

Council was told by Councilman Genkinger that Kirker had requested this as the cost of digging a well.

He explained that a sewer was laid lower than a well at 415 Bleakley avenue.

The sewer drained the well and he was compelled to dig a second well.

May Have To Dig In Lutton Street

Councilman Genkinger today reported to council that a storm sewer at Huey and Lutton streets is clogged.

He told colleagues it will be necessary to dig up new pavement to remedy the situation.

Engineer Miller was instructed to make an investigation and report on the best plans of alleviating the situation.

The fellow who is content with little usually gets less.

Contractors Must Hurry City Awards

Engineer Miller To Deliver Report On Contracts Not Started

Councilman D. O. Davies at the council session today asserted contractors who having received awards delay work and today said he is opposed to the contracts being delayed.

Councilman Tyler voiced similar statements and Municipal Engineer Miller was instructed to report on contracts not started. The report will be submitted Friday.

According to provisions in contracts all awards must be started within ten days after the contracts have been approved.

Councilmen are fearful that several contracts will be delayed until cold weather and excavations will make thoroughfares impassable.

Today contracts as follows were ordered approved:

Leasure avenue sanitary sewer.
Barber street sanitary sewer.
Taylor street sanitary sewer.
Berger place grading.
McCleary and Sennett street sanitary sewer.

Councilman Davies and Tyler's remarks in regard to work being delayed was occasioned by requests to expedite the Calvert street sewer.

Three Recruits Are Secured For Army

Local Recruiting Station Is Attracting Many Young Men

Recruiting for the United States Army was resumed here a few days ago, with headquarters in the city building, and already, Sergeant Walter McKelvey, who is in charge, has secured three recruits for that branch of the United States military forces.

The three men enlisting are Edward Murphy, William Hutchison and Justice Shellenberger, and they all enlisted in the Field Artillery with headquarters at Fort Bliss, Texas. Two of them saw service with the United States forces during the World War.

It will take them from thirty to sixty days to get to their destination. They go from this city to Pittsburgh and from that place to New York City.

From that place they will take an army transport going down the coast to New Orleans and from there they will go to Fort Sam Houston, Texas. At that point they will be assigned to their organization.

Young men, who are interested in getting into the army service and seeing some of the world should get in touch with Sergeant McKelvey at the city building.

Officials Probe Stream Pollution

Investigation Result Of 3,000 Dead Bass At Clarion

CLARION, Pa., Oct. 12.—Representatives from the state fish commission and sanitary water board have been investigating the pollution of Tionesta creek, which caused thousands of dead fish to float down the stream a few days ago. It is believed certain the 3,000 bass which were planted have been cleaned out by the pollution. A year ago a refinery explained that it accidentally allowed some chemical to get away, which killed fish by the hundreds.

Members of the Sheffield Rod and Gun Club, through its president, H. H. Jefferson, and the Isaak Walton League of Warren are planning legal action.

The source of the trouble has not been given out but it is known. Samples of the water which killed the fish were taken by officials of the Rod and Gun Club for analysis by the state department. Tionesta creek flows through the Allegheny National Forest throughout its length and is a natural habitat for fish of almost every variety.

Miss Le Maire will remain in New Castle for a few more days and has arranged to demonstrate the electric iron in the Marvin Electric company store on Wednesday and Thursday.

PLANNING FOR SCOUT CIRCUS

Scout Leaders Organization Has Meeting Monday Night

DAVIS IS AGAIN NAMED PRESIDENT

The Scout Leaders organization held their first fall meeting last evening at Scout Headquarters, with a large attendance present. President Ralph Davis presided.

An election of officers was held. Ralph Davis was again elected president of the Scout Leaders Association, Peter Grittie, first vice-president, Ernest Shultz, second vice president, Lewis West, secretary, and Melvin Gray, treasurer.

The following appointments were made by Mr. Davis; Ernest Shultz as chairman of the Court of Honor committee, Guy Raney as chairman of the Round-Up committee, William Ayres as chairman of the Menu committee, Kenneth Cotton as chairman of the Transportation committee, and Peter Grittie as chairman of the program committee for the next meeting, which will be held at Camp Phillips on Monday evening, November 15. At this time, Scout Executive Calahan will teach a new method of cooking, also, some new games and stunts.

Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was present at the meeting last evening and gave a very inspiring talk on leadership and what it means to the community. Plans were made for the next Court of Honor, which will be the biggest Court of Honor which has yet been held in the county. This Court of Honor will be put on in a form of ceremony and the public will be entitled to attend, admission being free of charge. Several hundred boys will advance one or more ranks of scouting at this Court of Honor.

It was decided last evening to hold a big Scout Circus some time in the early part of December, the place to be announced later. This is a new adventure to the Lawrence County Boy Scouts, but promises to be a good success. This will also be free to the public.

Calahan Tells Of Trip

Scout Executive Calahan told of his trip to Hot Springs. Also, it was decided that the Boy Scouts will co-operate in every way to help the Community Chest committee during the drive. The night before the drive opens, Scout Buglers will be stationed in all parts of the city and at a stated hour, bugle calls will be blown. This is to notify the public that the drive is on. Window and street displays of scouting will also be put on this week. Boy Scouts will assist as aids, messengers and in any other way they can during the noon-day meetings of the Chest workers.

The Scout Leaders Club of New Castle and the Scout Leaders Club of Ellwood City will meet this evening at the First Christian church at a quarter to six o'clock and will then go in a body to the banquet and lecture that is to be given by Mr. Brandon Booth.

Plans were discussed, also, for a Leaders Training School, which will be conducted by the Leadership and Training Committee, under the supervision of Mr. Charles McGrath, chairman. Any man in Lawrence County who desires to take a course in leadership of young people is invited to take the course, as it will be of no cost and credit will be given to those who complete it. The course consists of twenty hours, and a diploma will be issued to each man who successfully completes the course. The course conducted here will be the Columbia University Scout Leaders Course. In the near future the Publicity Committee, under the leadership of Charles Grafton, chairman, will make a canvass of the county for men who desire to take this training course. Arrangements may also be made at the American Red Cross for a first aid course. More details will be announced later.

The scout leaders are all enthusiastic about the fall and winter plans and are setting a goal of one thousand boys to become scouts in New Castle this winter, which will make a total of 1,800 scouts in this county. President Ralph Davis assured the men of his co-operation and thanked them for their fine attendance last evening, also, assured them of a larger and permanent meeting place to be secured for future meetings, as the club is growing rapidly and must have larger quarters.

There being no further business, the meeting was closed at 10:30.

LARGE TRIAL LIST IN MERCER

Damage Cases Compose Large Majority—Other News Notes Of Mercer

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 12.—The largest common pleas trial list in the history of Mercer county courts is placarded for the date of November 15, when the session opens. It numbers 52 cases. Damages amounting to dollars in the hundred thousand are asked in the total suits filed of the term. While the list is large, it is not expected that all the cases will be tried at this term. The session, regardless of continuances and cases settled out of court, is certain to be a long-drawn-out one. It is the first common pleas court since the session of May and is the big court of the year in common please actions.

The list of paroled prisoners in Mercer county now totals 150, reports Rev. W. T. K. Thompson, parole officer. The number reached that total in 1925 and has remained at that figure, the releases being equalized by the number paroled. The official has started the compiling of a record that within a few years will be very valuable.

As each prisoner is released from parole they will be requested to write out at length for the official their opinion of the parole system, whether of moral effect in their lives or not.

Rev. Thompson is already in possession of many letters written him by released prisoners who give the system credit for their reformation.

Hunting of racoon has been legal since October 1, but so far as the sportsmen of this community are concerned the season opening has meant nothing to them. No coon in any amount at all have been found and catches are very rare. It is thought that the wet weather has had a great deal to do with spoiling the sport.

The hunters allege that their sportless pursuits do not come from any lack of the animals, for they are plenty.

The next auto driver to bowl over a street sign in Mercer borough may expect a fine of $25 and costs and consider themselves lucky if more than this is not done to them.

Burgess Paul Terhune made announcement today of his intention to prosecute to the limit careless drivers who have already destroyed three signs. The signs placed in mid-street have a concrete base with iron standard on which are placed metal signs bearing the name of big towns within a 50-mile radius of Mercer, with the arrow of the sign pointing the proper direction of travel. The trio of signs wrecked were the destruction of women drivers. The number of just one driver has been secured. It is nothing but careless driving or wanton destruction, for the signs are protected at night with a red lamp and overhead electric light.

The committee on constitution and by-laws of the Mercer County Health Association of laymen are ready to report, and a meeting of the association, recently formed at a meeting held at the Penn-Grove in Grove City, will take place just as soon as the president, Guy Thorne, of Greenville, returns.

The members of the committee who drew them up are: District Attorney L. R. Rickard, Dr. J. E. Ferringer of Stoneboro, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Grove City, nurse in charge of eastern Mercer county for the state medical department.

The demolishing of the cell tiers in the Mercer county jail has been completed. Workmen will now start on the reconstruction of the work. New fronts to the cells, with a modern locking system, have been bought and will be installed by a crew of workmen under Harry Van Pogart, who put in the old tiers 22 years ago. Van Pogart has been with the Van Doren Iron Company, the contractors, for 37 years.

Some time will elapse before the jail building is completed.

Clarksville Bridge Gives Way Under Weight Of Truck

Driver Escapes Uninjured — Span Declared Unsafe For Motor Travel

CLARKSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 12.—The heavy floor beams in the Clarksville bridge here on the Sharon-Greenville road buckled and turned on their sides under the weight of a heavy milk truck yesterday afternoon. The truck went safely over the bridge, however, and the driver escaped uninjured.

The collapse of the bridge makes a long detour to Greenville necessary, as the new structure which is being erected at this point will not be completed for some time. It is hoped that by replacing beams with new ones the bridge can be used for light traffic until the new one is ready.

The Clarksville bridge is one of the oldest in the county and has been held for some time as unsafe for heavy traffic. Cars from the north are being detoured through Sharpsville over the ash road near the bridge, while those from the south are being sent over the Mercer-Clarksville road. Others wishing improved roads all the way may go to Greenville via Mercer.

He will talk on conditions in Europe as he found them while there.

Zane Grey's "Forlorn River" Outdoes The Printed Word

No matter how good a book is, a good motion picture director can improve upon it. Its true of Zane Grey's stirring novel "Forlorn River", the film dramatization of which is showing at the Regent, all week.

The wide scope possible in pictures enhances the power of the written word, and the screen version adds a lot to the novel. This week the Daughters of America are sponsoring the picture and all tickets bought from them help their share of the receipts.

The management of the Regent is interested in the work of the Daughters of America and urges that as many as possible buy their tickets from the women.

"Forlorn River" is a story of the west, pictured as only Zane Grey can, and enhanced considerably by able direction and such stars as Jack Holt, Arlette Marchal and Edmund Burns.

A special attraction is Gene Tunney the heavyweight champion in "The Fighting Marine".

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 12.—Struck by an automobile on Rocky Grove road, near here, Adam Collins, 67, was near death in Franklin hospital today.

Collins suffered a fractured skull, several broken ribs and internal injuries.

FIND MACHINE IN BUHL LAKE

SHARON, Oct. 12.—While draining the lake at Buhl farm in Sharon yesterday, preparatory to making repairs of building at the shore, an Overland Whippet coupe was found in the middle of the lake, sunk in the mud in the lake bottom. C. J. Chase, caretaker of the grounds made the discovery.

An examination of the license plates led to an investigation and the discovery by police that the machine belonged to Martin Yannerello of Shenango street, Sharon. Yannerello said the automobile was stolen from his home the night of September 29.

There are no clues as to who stole the coupe or who drove the machine into the lake.
